WE NOMINATE

Carlos Heard Baker, an internationally known authority in the fields of modern American and English literatures and the authorized biographer of Ernest Hemingway, who continues to flick through the nation's literary news as the "Hemingway legend," one of the compelling sagas in the history of American letters, adds letters, articles and volumes about and by Hemingway to an expanding shelf of posthumous publications. There can be little doubt that Baker's upcoming life of Hemingway, a work he started in 1961 with the approval of the author's widow and his publishers, Charles Scribner's Sons, will be the most eagerly awaited biography of the 1960's.

For almost a quarter-century, starting with the researches which led to the publication in the early 1950's of the first full-length study of Hemingway, entitled "Hemingway, The Writer As Artist," Baker has been on the Nobel Laureate's "paper trail." From the vaults of the National Bank of Cuba and the storerooms of Sloppy Joe's Bay in Key West Florida, have come "several trunks of manuscripts". Across three continents Baker has compiled a roster of 200-plus friends of Hemingway and "so far," he reported, "has had little trouble in seeing letters. People have shown them to me freely —perhaps out of love or out of hate for Hemingway."

A 58-year old native of Biddeford, Maine, and a member of the Class of 1932 at Dartmouth, where he won scholastic honors and participated in a variety of activities ranging from the presidency of his fraternity to the managership of the hockey team, Baker is a tireless and versatile writer. His publications include dozens of essays and reviews and run the gamut from two successful and stimulating novels, "A Friend in Power" and "The Land of Rumbelow," to a study of all of Shelley's chief poems and a collection of his own poems published in 1963 by Vanderbilt University Press under the title of "A Year and A Day."

From Hanover he moved southward to Harvard for his M.A. degree and then entered the teaching profession. Before concentrating on the university level, this one-time member of the Borough's Board of Education spent three years in secondary school—one in Maine and two in Buffalo, N.Y. He earned his doctorate at Princeton in 1940, three years after he had joined the Princeton faculty, and was advanced to the rank of professor in 1951. The recipient of an honorary degree from Dartmouth in 1957, Baker, the fourth great teacher to serve as Woodrow Wilson Professor of Literature at Princeton, was honored last spring by the Dartmouth Club of New Jersey for his achievements as "educator, book reviewer, poet, novelist and philologist."

Baker, one of the "six eminently literate collaborators" tapped by Columbia's Jacques Barzun to complete "Modern American Usage," a remarkable lexicon with commentary, was the founding editor of Princeton's unique "Good Reading" Supplement designed as a "modest and partial answer to the questions, "What can a University do for its alumni?" and "How can a busy man know what is really worth reading?" The Supplement, featuring capsule reviews of new books in all areas of literature, is periodically prepared by faculty experts and distributed through the "Princeton Alumni Weekly" and "University: A Princeton Quarterly" to some 68,000 readers across six continents.

For understanding that "when you put things on paper, you must attend to what you are saying;" for undertaking the enigmatic Hemingway's life, "one of the most formidable jobs ever undertaken by a modern-day literary scholar;" for his contributions as a teacher, scholar and creative writer; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as

STUDENTS ARRESTED

In Campus Protest. Sit-in demonstrations against the Institute for Defense Analyses have stopped, at least for the time being, and members of the Students for a Democratic Society say they will hold, later this week, a series of teach-ins at the University to oppose IDA.

The Institute, just off Prospect Avenue between Olden and Murray, was the scene of a six-hour sit-in protest on Monday. Borough police arrested 31 undergraduate and graduate students and one Princeton High School student, charging 29 of them with trespass. The other two were juveniles, one a 17-year-old University freshman, the other, it was learned later, Angeland Goreau of 151 Harrison, the student at PHS.

The 29 arrested were held in the Borough Jail until the arrival at 6 p.m. of their lawyer, Joseph Stonaker, retained for them by the American Civil Liberties Union. They were released without bail in his custody.

The demonstrators had expected arrest, and had arranged ahead of time to post bail they did not need. The University offered to supply bail, but leaders of the SDS say they would have rejected it.

Hearing will be held next Wednesday, November 1, at 7:30 in Borough Hall.

Protest Military Research. The sit-in was part of a demonstration by students for a Democratic Society against the University's sponsorship of the IDA, a non-profit association of 12 universities which does military research for the Department of Defense and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Student objection to Princeton University's part in IDA apparently takes several forms. Some students are said to believe that by joining in sponsorship of the corporation and leasing it land on campus, the University is compromising its integrity and act ing in contradiction to its pol icy of staying out of politics.

Other students have linked the IDA's association with military research to the war in Vietnam and their opposition to the war.

Jerome Hoffman, student sit-in leader, explained the purpose of the demonstration: "We're not trying to close IDA today; we're trying to polarize campus opinion."

Some 45 students had grouped at SDS' campus offices at 7 a.m. and marched soon after to the research center just east of the Engineering Quadrangle on Prospect Street. At the center, home of the Communications Research Division of IDA, the protestors massed themselves on the front steps and prepared to block the entrance as IDA employees as they reported to work Monday morning. Lookouts were posted to notify the students if an employee tried to sneak in or out through one of the side entrances.

By mid-morning, over 20 IDA workers, including secretaries, computer programmers and mathematicians, had been turned away. Several employees who had been inside the building when the sit-in began the research center is manned around the clock to make full use of the enormously powerful computer in its basement, remained in the building and waved away their co workers as they arrived.

Goheen Arrives. Demonstrators trickled in from the campus during the morning until some 60 students were sitting on the steps. By mid-day, however, the number had shrunk to slightly under 40 students as their colleagues left for classes or lunch.

At 9:30, the University's president, Robert F. Goheen, appeared at IDA and reminded demonstrators and the IDA that the University had no authority to act since IDA is an independent institution. He warned the demonstrators that they were in danger of arrest.

"I feel we need strong dissent in the universities and elsewhere," said Dr. Goheen, "but we think the students should respect the rights of others."

In Borough Hall, Police Chief Peter J. McCrohan, Police Commissioner William H. Walker and Mayor Henry S. Patterson conferred about the situation and kept an eye on it all morning.

Richard A. Leibler, director of IDA, called Chief McCrohan about 11 a.m. and said he wanted Borough police to act. Commissioner, Chief and Mayor decided to wait until after the student-set hour to move in so that the crowd of spectators would be smaller.

Appeals Made. At 1:30, Chief McCrohan, Commissioner Walker and Mayor Patterson arrived at IDA. All of them made appeals to the demonstrators.

"I used to be an undergraduate at this university and I sympathize with your feelings," the mayor told the crowd, "but your actions are illegal." The mayor suggested the students picket the IDA if they wanted to show their disapproval.

An IDA employee attempted to climb over and through the demonstrators and enter the building. He fell in the attempt and whether in anger or by accident, reportedly knocked against a gradutate student who said he suffered a damaged tooth.

The IDA employee also tangled inadvertently with Chief

McCrohan and Mayor Patterson as they were pulling him off. A second employee also tried to enter.

At 1:45, Chief McCrohan informed the students that they were violating the law by blocking entrance to the building, and gave them five minutes to disperse.

As the minutes passed, a bus, chartered by the police, drove up and several demonstrators seeing the policemen grouped around Chief McCrohan, removed their glasses. When the five minutes had elapsed, the students were placed under arrest. Eleven of them walked to the bus voluntarily; 21 curled up on the steps, "went limp" and were pursued, pulled and carried to the bus by Borough policemen.

One in the bus, en route to Borough Hall and jail, the demonstrators were orderly, police reported. Mayor Patterson said that before going to the scene, Chief McCrohan told the police to keep their cool and not to use force.

Mayor Patterson praised the police for their behavior and said he heard no cries of police brutality from the demonstrators. The Daily Princetonian, campus weekly, reported that one officer told Miss Gorecai, "You kids are just lucky we aren't state cops."

Deadline Changed

All clubs and organizations in the Princeton area wishing to have a news item published in TOWN TOPICS are requested to have the release at 4 Mercer Street by 10 a.m. Monday of the week of publication.

Other demonstrators protested overcrowding in the four new Borough jail cells that were not designed to accommodate so many. The student who said his teeth were damaged charged that police refused to allow him to make a phone call to a dentist.

Picket Borough Hall. About 30-50 sympathizers, including other SDS members, some Princeton High School students and a few adults, picketed during Monday afternoon in front of Borough Hall while the protesters were in jail inside. An undergraduate with a bullhorn had walked along Nassau Street reporting the sit-in and the arrest and recruiting the pickets.

Outside Borough Hall, there was order. When the demonstrators were asked to move off the steps and down into the plaza in front of the building, they did so. There was never any question of applying the Borough's new disorderly persons ordinance, Mayor Patterson said, because the pickets weren't blocking any access or using offensive language.

SDS says that its series of teach-ins this week will oppose what it considers IDA's criminal and immoral actions. "If IDA employees don't realize they shouldn't be involved involved in this, and it's reasonable to assume they won't, we'll try to close it down," said Mr. Hoffman.

ANOTHE 'MILLION' GOING

To Contest Winner. Having already made Mrs. Harold Burkert, 26 Herrontown Circle, a millionaire for a day, Princeton Savings and Loan plans to repeat its contest and give someone else a chance to "Live Like a Millionaire."

Prizes for the contest, which drew more than 1,000 entries the first time around, include the dividend on $1 million for one day at the Princeton Savings's 4½% rate, dinner for two at a Princeton area restaurant, plus an evening at the theatre in New York and chauffered limousine service for the night.

To enter, clip the coupon from the association's ad on page 15 of this issue and bring or mail it to the association's offices at 19 Chambers Street before the deadline of 4 p.m. Monday, November 13. The winner will be selected in a random drawing. It is not necessary to have or open an account to be eligible.

TAYLORS WIN $5,000

In New York Lottery. The third and final drawing in the New York State Lottery Thursday proved to be the unlucky one for George and Lillie Taylor, 11 Quarry Street, but by that time the Taylors already were sure of $5,000.

They survived a first drawing Monday, when 1,390 tickets were picked from tumblers holding more than four million. This assured them of winning at least $150. Tuesday they made the second cutoff when 75 names were picked from the 1,390, and their minimum winnings rose to $5,000.

If their luck had held, the Taylors could have walked off with one of the top prizes of $100,000, $50,000 or even one of the four grand prizes of $100,000. But $5,000 or what's left of it after Uncle Sam has taken his cut in taxes, still buys plenty, even these days.

SCHOOL PLANS ATTACKED

By Lawrence Civic Group. Frank J. Krzos, president of the Central Lawrence Civic Improvement Association, has leveled criticism at the proposed intermediate school planned by the Lawrence Board of Education.

He said that it would be a mistake to rush headlong into a project as large and expensive as the proposed $2,000,000 school. Claiming that "the Township is deep in debt already," Mr. Krzos pointed out that the 1966 Master Plan's Recommended Capital Improvements Program had already caused a significant rise in the debt structure.

In his statment Mr. Krzos reminded the Board that they had rejected the school's proposed site in the Lawrence Road-Eggerts Crossing area only last year as poorly located and potentially dangerous to school children crossing Route 206.

"I am calling on the Board of Education and the Planning Board to immediately make an intensive and long-range study of our educational needs," concluded Mr. Krzos. He asked other Lawrence residents to join him in requesting deferment of the intermediate school until the study has been completed.

APPEAL DECISION

On Post Office. The Thanet Corporation has filed an appeal in Superior Court against the Township Zoning Board's refusal to allow a post office on North Harrison Street.

Ridgely Cook, president of Thanet, said the appeal was filed on Friday. In the usual language of such appeals, it attacks the Zoning Board decision as "arbitrary, capricious and unreasonable."

Specifically, Thanet plans to ask the court in rule that the post office is a public utility —the zoning board ruled that it wasn't — and if it isn't a public utility, that it is entitled to a use variance.

If similar appeals are any guide, it will probably take Thanet's case about a year to grind through the courts. So far, the Township Zoning Board doesn't have an attorney to handle its side of the case. Sidney Souter resigned last month as the zoning board attorney and he has not yet been replaced.

Where to Build? Meanwhile, Arthur Parsons of the post office department, has submitted space requirements to Administrator Joseph R. Nini, to see whether the post office and the Township can get together after all on some kind of joint housing.

This project was explored before and drowned because the post office needs so much more space for its operations than the Township does for municipal offices. Now, the second time around, tiime post office needs even more space than it did before, and Mr. Nini has written to Mr. Parsons to ask for a pruning job.

The area under consideration is the land between the new section of Terhune Road, south to the swimming pool boundary line. This includes the present Township garage, the roadbed of Valley Road, Township Hall and its Annex.

There isn't enough parking there now for Township employees, Mr. Nini says. To add 49 postal employees' cars and maneuvering room for post office trucks, and the combined post office Township Hall would be too much.

ALL AROUND THE WORLD . . . : Estonia, France and Spain will be represented by these three ladies "en costume" at the YWCA's International Festival. They are, left to right, Mrs. Hilja Treumut (Estonia), Mrs. Max Burger (France) and Mrs. David Marsden (Spain).

The post office has told Mr. Nini it needs 24,000 square feet of ground floor space for its "work day." This precludes a space-saving high-rise building, Mr. Nini points out.

It has been suggested that the Township might build a new hall across Route 206 on land now planned for more Community Gardens recreation space, and turn over the present Township complex to the post office.

CAMPAIGN MOVES ON

Along Loop. The Loop Road, which lies outside the Borough of Princeton altogether, nevertheless looped its way into the Borough's mayoralty campaign this week.

"It is the duty of the mayor to press for action on this vital project," said Democratic candidate Archibald S. Alexander, Jr., "The mayor should use a vigorous and imaginative approach and give the project a high priority to preserve the residential quality of the Borough."

When completed, the Loop Road will ring Princeton, partly in the Township and partly in neighboring municipalities as it completes its circle.

In June of this year, a new non-profit corporation called The Regional Development Council, Inc., composed of private citizens in and around Princeton, announced that through a working arm the Regional Development Association, it would plan details of the road, and raise money for engineering study and land purchase.

The Association hole. Mr. Alexander said he approved of the Association and regarded it as "the right kind of organization to deal with the development of roads on a regional basis. This is the best way to develop a by-pass system.

He charged that initiative for setting up the Association "did not come from Borough mayor and council but from private citizens and groups."

Mayor Henry S. Patterson said, in reply, "The Loop Road and the Regional Development Association have remained out of politics until now, and should remain outside of politics.

Borough citizens have been prime movers in the Council and Association," the mayor continued. He said that Minot C. Morgan Jr., former Democratic mayor of the Borough and present of the Borough Council, "especially deserves a vote of confidence for his dedication to this particular project."

The mayor listed two Borough Councilmen who were founding members-Republican Alan Carrier and Democrat Robert Hendry — and also Arthur P. Morgan, Borough Planning Board chairman, and two Borough residents who have been called the "fathers" of the Loop Road idea, Charles A. Steele and Albridge C. Smith Jr.

"If Princeton Borough as a municipality had been involved in pushing through a route in another municipality, the mayor said, "we would have only been a road block."

FOOD FAIR PLANNED

By Princeton YWCA. November 10 and 11 are the dates for the YWCA's Fellowship Fun Fare. Foods representative of several foreign lands will be on display for an the most sampling and for purchasing.

The affair is being organized under the direction of Mrs. Howard B. Waxwood Jr., Mrs. Bowman Mrs. Richard H. Hughes, Miss Nancy Lennon and Mrs. Quincy Rowe to raise money for the YWCA World Fellowship. The Fellowship provides needed services for women and girls around the world: helping homeless refugees, educating girls, running nursery schools and providing vocational training.

Among the many exotic foods on sale will be empanadas from Chile, prepared by Mrs. James Sassaman and Mrs. Manuel Cardenas, and Algaeres from Argentina, prepared by Mrs. Alberta Sahagell and Mrs. Carlos Segovia. Mrs. Bianca Otalora will prepare other Latin dishes ranging from Pan de Yuca to Alminjahanas to garullas.

The Fun Fare is scheduled for 7 to 10 in the evening on Friday, November 10, and for 10 to 6 on Saturday, November 11.

SQUIBB GETS LAST OKAY

From Lawrence Zoners. A summer long municipal battle between Lawrence Township officials and angry residents over the plan of E. R. Squibb & Sons to locate an administrative research complex on Route 206 and Province Line Road ended Thursday night with unanimous final approval from the Township's Zoning Board.

And in its place is another fight, this one in the courts, that could take a year or longer to settle. Both the North Lawrence Citizens' Assn. and Princeton Township have brought suits against Lawrence challenging the amended zoning ordinance which permits Squibb to build in Lawrence.

Hearing the two suits in Superior Court, Judge George H. Barlaw first combined them, and then gave the plaintiffs attorneys' David Deitz, representing the NLCA, and Frederic G. Stickel III, for the Township, three weeks to prepare arguments against the ordinance.

The North Lawrence group is charging that the public's right to know was violated by Lawrence officials through the use of several special and executive meetings, and the procedure used to amend the ordinance was improper. Charges of conflict of interest on the part of three Lawrence committeemen are also included in the North Lawrence suit.

At the same time Judge Barlow held over November 10 a motion by the defendants that the ordinance is "reasonable" and the two suits should be thrown out.

In Thursday night's meeting at which both Mr. Deitz and Mr. Stickel attended to present their views, the board stated it was approving the Squibb application because the firm has complied with the provisions of the ordinance, the "campus-like" complex would be compatible with nearby residential areas, and the proved land coverage is "substantially" in compliance with the township master plan.

The zoner's okay was granted on condition that Squibb comply with a number of relatively minor requirements concerning approval of heating, ventilation and cafeteria plans, lighting and landscape, waste disposal system and the interal road network.

At the outset of the hearing, Mr. Stickel contended that the board did not qualify to hear the application and urged the board to suspend action on it until the validity of the ordinance was established by the court.

YOU CAN COUNT ON US.

Say Fire Companies. Princeton's volunteer fire companies will continue to honor their mutual assistance pact with Trenton, Mayor Henry S. Patterson announced this week.

"I very much commend them for this decision," he commented. Some volunteer fire companies that have a mutual assistance pact with Trenton have begun to get cold, if not wet feet, as they read about the way firemen have been shiped at in riot-torn cities.

The Borough's official position, said the mayor, would have been to resist any pact breaking on the part of Princeton's three companies. How ever, the volunteers themselves decided to hold to their agreement specifies that Princeton's firemen will take over fringe areas if Trenton firemen must go to a big fire. Such a situation did occur a bout a year ago, Trenton's firemen in turn, helped at Princeton's Trinity Church fire some years ago.

BOROUGH, TOO

In Open Space Cut-back. The Borough has said to the Township, in effect, "We're still with you in the face of the cutback in Federal open space money."

The Township has been told that a 22.2 acre open space parcel known as the Penny packer tract does not rank high enough in Federal planning to receive any money now, although the application will be reviewed again.

If other applications for Federal open space money are treated in the same way, the Township could be out about $175,000.

At a meeting Monday night between Township Committeemen and Mayor Carl C. Schafer and Borough Councilmen and Mayor Henry S. Patterson, the Borough re-affirmed its participation in Township Open Space land purchase. The Borough's share in the current misfortune will probably be less than $100,000. Mayor Patterson estimates. He said this would mean a maximum of $8,000, or two tax cents, in the first year of funding.

The Borough participates with the Township in several joint activities on a 60-40 ratio based on tax rateables, the Township paying 60 percent of a given cost and the Borough 40 per cent.

Yours for the Taking

That extra hour
On Saturday night
Will wind you up
So you'll sleep tight.

There's only one way to get that extra hour when Daylight Saving ends this weekend — turn your clock back when you hit the sack.

October is expected to bow out somewhat on the wet side. A series of highs and lows chasing each other across the weather map will bring showers at mid-week and again Friday or Saturday. Cooler temperatures are due, too.

FIRESTONE LIBRARY SITE Of Undecreased Extension. One of three cases to appear before the Borough Zoning Board Thursday night at 8 p.m. in the new Borough Hall will be the proposal by Princeton University to build an underground extension to Firestone Library.

Describing the proposed extension as quite large, Borough Engineer Thomas Cawley said that it would project toward Nassau Street and raise the contour of the land three feet. Hence the appearance before the zoning board.

The Zoning Board views the three feet as an elevation and feels the University will require a front yard variance. The University maintains it doesn't. "It's all a matter of interpretation of the zoning laws," said Mr. Cawley.

The other two cases came before the board last month and were postponed under different sections of the zoning code.

Yavneh of Princeton, a group of some 20 Orthodox Jewish students at the University, will try again to obtain the board's approval to use the single family residence at 46 Wiggins Street as a place to eat kosher meals.

Last month, they appeared before the board as an eating club and were turned down. This time, they will apply as a synagogue. Churches are a permitted are in a residential zone.

Back again, too, is 199 Nassau Street. At issue are the number of off-street parking places required to change the first floor of the three-story building from office to retail use.

Realtor Bryce Thompson, who is bringing the case before the board, claims two; the Board says seven. Another example it would seem, of interpretation.

RIDE A MINI-BUS TO TOWN: Democratic candidate Montague Brown (right), running for Township Committee, suggests that Committee consider mini-buses for Princeton. With his daughter, Helene, and Clarence di Donato (left), Mr. Brown talked last week with officials in a Long Island community where such buses are being tried. That's mini in the background.

use for building and how much he has to leave for parking.

The board tabled the question and is expected to make a decision at the November meeting.

The board will recommend to Township Committee that the Institute for Advanced Study be given the necessary variance to build 32 apartments on six acres on Harding Road.

The new apartments would be exactly like the ones built by the Institute in 1956. At that time, the units conformed to the zoning ordinance, but they are smaller than the present requirements. Minot C. Morgan Jr., general manager of the Institute, told the board that the new apartments will have partial basements to provide more storage. The present units have no basements.

WHY NOT MINIBUS?

Candidate Asks Study. Montague Brown, Democratic candidate for Township Committee, has asked both Township and Borough to study in depth the kind of community minibus service he saw last week in Merrick, Long Island.

"It is the role of local government to see that services needed by a community are there," the candidate declared at a press conference last Saturday. "Where experimentation is involved, the town itself should provide the initiative."

Mr. Brown described to reporters the experimental minibus service inaugurated a week ago in the Long Island community. The town is similar, he said, to Princeton in size and socio-economic structure.

In Merrick, Mr. Brown said, four leased buses with 18-person capacity each, run two routes around the town, to the railroad station and out to a shopping center. The service is supported by a combination of town money ($50,000), Federal money ($180,000) and money from a private bus company ($30,000). Fare is 25 cents for the first 20-minute route.

Mr. Brown said with a smile that it was Merrick's Republican governing body that brought the experiment into being. The Federal money comes from HUD — the Department of Housing and Urban Development — and is being used in part to keep a continuing log of the plan, so that when the experiment is officially over in two years, other towns can benefit from Merrick's experience.

In Merrick, Mr. Brown said he talked with wives who no longer drive commuting husbands to the train because they take the bus; with carpooling mothers who now send children on the bus to dancing class and with elderly residents who said the bus gives them more mobility.

"But I don't think we should merely talk to friends and see what they think," Mr. Brown said. "I'm asking Committee to undertake research, do a destination study. If I am elected, I will follow through with this, and will go to Washington to find out whether Federal money is possible for Princeton."

Mr. Brown suggested that the cost of subsidizing a mini-bus service might be less than building parking lots and parking garages or widening roads to accommodate increased traffic. "Four-lane highways don't appeal to me," he said. "I believe these mini-buses could free our streets from a great deal of traffic."

Republicans. Mr. Brown's opponent, meanwhile, spoke this week about Princeton's new recreation complex.

Harry J. Volweider, incumbent Township Committeeman and Republican candidate for the two-year position sought by Mr. Brown, said in a campaign statement:

"The Community Park recreation complex, enjoyed by 85,000 persons this past summer, is a classic demonstration of what a far-sighted Township government, working in close cooperation with Borough officials and various appointed agencies, has accomplished in the interest of all the people."

Mr. Volweider is also chairman of the Joint Recreation Board, and he said he looked forward to developing the remaining Community Park area on the other side of Route 206.

"In due course," he said, "we can expect that funds will be appropriated by Borough and Township for site development there. When the area is fully developed, residents can

"We Need You!"

"We" are Princeton's small school children, tramping off to school each morning and back each afternoon.

The need is for three crossing guards to help children cross intersections. Actual traffic control is not necessarily required, according to Lt. Richard Steiner of the Township police force; the chief need is simply for someone to get the children across when the traffic is clear.

Pay is $3 an hour, although the precise amount is determined by the amount of traffic control a guard has to do. Hours are 7:45-8:30 a.m. and 2:30 to 3. Some guards also work from 11-12:30.

Uniforms, including rainwear, are supplied. Women as well as men are welcome, and Lt. Steiner suggests that retired persons may be particularly interested. Applications should be made at the Township Police Station in Township Hall, or by telephone at 921-2100.

expect to enjoy a lake, picnic areas, par-three golf course and, in all likelihood a skating rink.

Mr. Volweider traced the history of the new recreation area to 1956 and "a survey of Princeton's recreation needs conducted by the National Recreation Association. Over the next several years, their recommendations were acted upon in an orderly fashion," the candidate said, citing land acquisition, formation of the Joint Recreation Board with the Borough, "extensive recreation surveys" made by Opinion Research and Gallup and Robinson, and the 1964 appropriation by Borough and Township of $302,000.

Mr. Volwieder's running mate, William L. Wilson, unopposed for re-election to Committee, pledged full development of Community Park as specified in the master plan. "Most importantly," he said, "Township officials will expect to keep operating costs in line with income."

BOARD OFFERS PLAN

For Overnight Parking. The Princeton Joint Recreation Board has offered its plan to allow overnight parking in one of two lots at the Community Park complex. Earlier, Township Committee had approached the board with a request that a portion of the Community Park lots be made available to residents of the Borough and Township for overnight parking.

After what he termed "a brainstorming session" with John Wallace, Committee liason with the board, Administrator Joseph Nini, Engineer Frank Quinby and Police Chief James B. Campbell, Recreation Director R. Donald Barr made the following recommendation: that no parking be allowed between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday on the north side of the lot nearest the tennis courts off Birch Avenue, and that no parking be allowed on the south side of the same lot between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m. on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Parking would be permitted on both sides on Sunday. No commercial vehicles would be allowed to park in the lot except when actually using the park facilities.

The lot in question has, according to Mr. Barr, some 75 parking spaces. In essence what the Recreation Board has recommended is opening up half the lot for overnight resident parking but for periods not longer than 24 hours. What it wants to avoid is use by trucks and the problem of abandoned cars.

Mr. Barr's recommendation was unanimously adopted by members of the Board. Mr. Barr said the next step was to have the recommendation reviewed by the Traffic Safety Committee and then passed on to Committee for translation into an ordinance. "The only way we can enforce these regulations is through an ordinance," he said.

His recommendation would not affect the lot in front of the swimming pool complex off Witherspoon Street. Mr. Barr told the board that the Recreation Commission had experienced no trouble with trucks or cars being left in that lot and he felt a parking ordinance governing it was "not necessary."

Free Tennis Classes. In another matter, Mrs. Eve Kraft, director of the Princeton Community Tennis Program, reviewed the first year of operation of tennis at Community Park and made recommendations for 1968. Mrs. Kraft underlined the need for free tennis clinics in the spring. She added that the Community Tennis program had spent $300 of its own this spring but she felt this expense in the future should be born by the Recreation Commission.

Princeton was way ahead of other communities in Mercer County in the number of people in instructional tennis classes, Mrs. Kraft reported, accounting for 1,500 of some 2,500.

Mr. Barr replied that he believed the Recreation Commission did have an obligation to the community on an elementary level to provide free tennis classes, as it does for swimming.

The next meeting was moved ahead a week to November 8.

BOY'S BODY FOUND

In Woods Near His Home. The body of 18-year-old Robert W. Grierson was found in a wooded area not far from his home on Province Line Road last Tuesday afternoon. Lawrence Township police termed the death an apparent suicide by hanging.

Police said the body was discovered by David F. Gorman, 66, of the Princeton-Lawrenceville Road, while he was posting "no-hunting signs on property owned by W. P. White, also of Princeton-Lawrenceville Road.

Police Capt. Nicholas Loveless said the youth, missing since September 13, lived with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Souter. He had returned from a summer in Nevada and was expected to leave for college in Colorado, when he disappeared.

A private service was held at the Mather Funeral Home, with the Rev. H. Dana Fearon of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment was in Chagrin Falls, Ohio.

E PLURIBUS UNUM

A phase so familiar, on all our coins, that it hardly registers in our minds. And perhaps it really isn't a matter of life or death.

But, some familiar phrases are important. When was the last time you noticed, "Keep all medicines out of the reach of children." It's on every drug you buy — for a reason.

A drug product must have some effect on the body — or it's worthless. Taken as directed, it helps. Take too much and it can be harmful. Adults know this but children do not. And what fun to be a grown-up — to take Mommy's medicine just as she does.

"Keep all medicines out of reach of children." The phrase may be old but the message is vital — every hour, every day.

TWO POLICEMEN INJURED

In Intersection Crash. Ptl. Ronald G. Holliday, who joined the Borough force about six months ago, and Sgt. Arthur Gallant, a 20 year veteran, were injured early Monday morning when their patrol car was struck in the right rear door by a car at the intersection of Witherspoon and Wiggins Street. Damage to the patrol car exceeded $500.

Sgt. Gallant, 45, 9 Erdman Avenue, riding in the front seat, received contusions of the right shoulder and hip and a sprain of his fourth vertebrae. Ptl. Holliday, 28, a resident of Trenton, sustained a sprain to his left shoulder. Both were treated at Princeton Hospital.

Ptl. David Alston charged the other driver, Demosthen N. Johnson, 35, 76 Mountain Avenue, with failing to stop for a red light. Mr. Johnson told Ptl. Alston that his attention had been drawn to his horn which he thought was bleeding. When he looked down, he lost his field of vision.

The 2:57 a.m. collision spun the patrol car completely around. Mr. Johnson escaped injury, but the entire front end of his 1.6 convertible was damaged.

It was one of those weeks for the Borough's newest patrolman. Last Wednesday morning, Ptl. Holliday was involved in an accident at the often treacherous intersection of Stockton and Elm.

That day, Ptl. Holliday's station wagon was struck on the right side by a car driven by John F. Blewener, 39, 8 Wendel Drive, Pennington. Mr. Blewener told Ptl. Thomas Michaud that he stopped at the foot of Elm for a car coming east on Stockton but that he had not seen Ptl. Holliday's car coming in the opposite direction until the point of impact. He was charged with a stop sign violation.

Ptl. Holliday and Mr Blewener were uninjured.

Five persons, including three 17-year-old girls, were shaken up, following an accident shortly after 8 Tuesday morning at the intersection of Hamilton Avenue and Harrison Street North. All were treated at Princeton Hospital and released.

David Jensen, 26, 51 Maple Street, one of the drivers, received contusions and abrasions of the forehead and chin. The other driver, Mrs. Harriet Boydanoff, 45, 39 Random Road, sustained a bruised left forearm. Her daughter, Zelda, and two other passengers, Rachael Kursham, 17, 73 Random Road and Debra Freedman, 17, 543 Riverside Drive, received assorted bruises and abrasions.

The accident is still being investigated by the Borough police.

School Bus vs. Car. Four school children, a three month old baby, its mother and grandmother were injured Friday afternoon in a collision between a school bus and a car at Jefferson Road and Mount Lucas Road.

Most severely injured was the driver of the car, Mrs. Susan Clark, 21, of Wharton. She was placed in Princeton Hospital's intensive care unit for treatment of a severe scalp laceration, multiple lacerations and contusions. She was released from the hospital on Monday.

Her three-month old son, Scott, received a bumn on his forehead. Her mother, Mrs. Margaret Brylski, 42, of Boonton, was treated for lacerations of the face and possible back injuries at Princeton Hospital and released.

Of the 29 school children on the bus, four were treated at the hospital for minor injuries. They were Dewey, 6, and Edward Dobkowski, 9, of Cherry Brook Road; Debra Sodecek, 8, Pole Mead; and Douglas Remson, 5, Burnt Hill Road, Skillman. The driver of the bus, Joan M. Warsefski, 26, of Belle Mead, escaped injury.

The investigating officer, Ptl. David Posts has, as yet, issued no charges. A diagram of the accident shows that the Clark car apparently failed to observe a stop sign. The entire left side of Mrs. Clark's car was demolished.

A Newlin Road resident was charged with careless driving last week by Sgt. Gallant when he failed to stop at the foot of Elm Road and Stockton.

Petterson B. Marzoni, 48, told police he did not realize he was so close to the intersection. His car skidded sideways across Stockton, jumped the curb and came to rest 21 feet away. Enroute it tore up 16 feet of split rail fence bordering Marquand Park.

The mishap took place at 1:08 Sunday morning. Mr. Marzoni's convertible had to be towed away.

Hits Parked Car. On Saturday evening, Mrs. Myrtle M. Conley, 59, 20 Hillside Avenue, was charged with careless driving when she struck a parked car on Bayard Lane near Boudinot. Mrs. Conley refused treatment at the scene but was later treated by her doctor for a fractured right kneecap.

A LESSON IN UNSAFE DRIVING: A missed stop sign resulted in this collision Friday between a school bus and a car at the intersection of Jefferson and Mount Lucas Roads. Four school children were treated at Princeton Hospital for minor injuries. In the car were a three-month old baby, his mother and grandmother. All were injured but none seriously. (Staff Photo)

The parked car, owned by Robert L. Waldron of Englewood, was pushed forward 35 feet by the impact. Mr. Conley told police he saw the car and tried to warn his wife but she was unable to veer away in time. Both cars were towed away. Ptl. John J. Bellow investigated.

Norman Rosenfeld, 30, a resident of Manhattan, was the victim of an unusual accident Saturday afternoon as he was walking at the intersection of Nassau Street and Washington Road.

According to the police report, Mr. Rosenfeld was struck in the face by a large outside rear view mirrow of a camping truck turning from Nassau onto Washington. He refused medical attention for bruises on his face and left eye.

Sgt. Robert Anderson did not make a charge against the driver, Harold W. Topham of Lincoln Lake, Pa. He said that the victim did not appear to be in a normal condition.

CHILDREN TO PARADE

On Halloween Eve. The Princeton Recreation Department and the Princeton Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring a Halloween Parade for the third straight year. Youngsters from pre-school through the age of 13 will be eligible to march in the parade and to attend the party after the parade.

Marchers will assemble at the corner of Hulfish and Witherspoon Streets at 6:15 on Monday. Led by the Princeton High School Pep Band, the paraders will proceed to the High School auditorium via Witherspoon, Nassau and Moore Streets. All participants should be in costume.

A Halloween Party has been

Let's Read A Crisp October Book

This weekend, try a good, crackling book while you're sitting in front of a good, crackling fire, resting from raking all those good, crackling leaves. Princeton's best-seller list will help you choose:

FICTION

"The Chosen," Chaim Potok. A first novel about varieties of Jewish belief. (Public Library).

"The Gabriel Hounds," Mary Stewart. The ladies' favorite Gothic novelist has a new one again this year. (Male's).

"The Confessions of Nat Turner," William Styron. The famous slave rebel tells his story in the style of a novel. (University Store and Princeton Book Mart).

NON-FICTION

"The 'America,'" Charles Boswell. History of the boat that started it all. (Public Library).

"Between Parent and Child," Haimg Ginnot. How to communicate. (Male's).

"Our Crowd," Stephen Birmingham. Jewish society in New York City. (University Store).

"Princeton Architecture," Mary Gibbons, Constance Greiff and Elizabeth G. C. Meozies. The photographic history. (Princeton Book Mart).

RECOMENDED . . .

"A Garden of Earthly Delights," Joyce Oates. Luminous and unusual novel about a migrant mother and her family. (Public Library).

"The Unborn Girl," Carolyn Glyn. Anybody remember Elinor Glyn? Her great-grand-daughter writes this novel. (Male's).

"Captain James Cook," Alan Villiers. Absorbing history-biography. (University Store).

"The Lawrenceville Stories," Owen Johnson. A half-century old, but fascinating reading. (Princeton Book Mart).

"MUSIC FROM MARLBORO"
A Rewarding Program.

There are so many fine things to record about the second "Music from Marlboro" concert presented at 10 McCosh Hall Monday that one doesn't know just where to begin. Coming fast on the heels of the first chamber concert of the season (see page 32), the second of five "Marlboro" concerts scheduled this season featured a variety of outstanding musicians which included Jaime and Ruth Laredo, Leon Kirchner, Robert Nagel, John Swallow and several others to be listed in the course of this review. The program which was adventurous and quite rewarding included Schonberg's "Suite", Op 29, Mozart's Piano Quartet in Eb Major, K. 493, and the Suite from "L'Histoire du Soldat" by Stravinsky.

The Schonberg Suite is scored for string trio, piano and three clarinets. (the Eb alto, Bb and bass clarinet). It is a work of great inventiveness, energy wit and deeth, serially constructed and built along "neoclassical" lines of musical thought. The music was performed by Jaime Laredo, violin; Ruth Laredo, piano, Madeline Foley, 'cello; Samuel Rhodes, viola; Harold Wright, James Corwin and Donald Stewart, clarinets. Leon Kirchner conducted the ensemble in a most vigorous and thoroughly "clean sounding" reading. The rhythmic exactitude and supple tone color of Ruth Laredo's keyboard artistry added much to the brilliant performances by her colleagues under Mr. Kirchner's sole direction.

What struck this reveiwer however was the somewhat "cool" reception the music received. Despite the audience's acknowledgement of the excellent playing accorded the work, it was apparent that many were perplexed by the music itself.

For many, Schonberg's art still remains a gray mass of well calculated sounds, no longer offensive perhaps, but nevertheless, emotionally unsatisfyin' It is for this very reason, that more performances on this high level, should be given of such a composition, for if I may be permitted to offer an opinion of the work in question; it would be this: The music is comparable to a late Beethoven Quartet, minus "tonality." This is an intricate kind of polyphonic music, with many changes in mood, tone color and texture. It is no less melodic than a late Beethoven Quartet and (though "time" will only tell) no less rewarding a musical experience.

So much for the didatic, if you will! The Mozart Eb Piano Quartet which followed only to proceed the Stravinsky, sounded pale by comparison; not so much because of its 18th century character as for its intrinsic compositional failings.

It may be good Mozart, but it is far from great Mozart. There is simply too little variety, the string trio and piano are treated much as a duet rather than a quartet of instruments and there is much formal repetition of less than first rate Mozartian material.

The performance was adequate, but no more. Mr. Kirchner plays the piano very well, but his "deliberated" approach to the score did little to enhance the performance. His tonal palette is limited to either soft or brittle, when loud; an excellent musician without question, but not a pianist in the truly artistic sense of the term.

As a conductor however, Mr. Kirchner needs no apology or defense. He is quite superb. He returned following the Mozart to conduct Stravinsky's Suite from the "Soldiers Tale" with Jaime Laredo, violin; Harold Wright, clarinet; Joyce Kelly, bassoon, Robert Nagel, trumpet; John Swallow, trombone, Julius Levine, double bass; and Raymond DesRoches, percussion. This is probably the finest performance of "L'Histoire" this reviewer has ever heard, live or on recording.

It was a frenetic but clearly articulated interpretation. Mr. Laredo is a magnificent chamber music player (as a soloist, he is already internationally acclaimed.) Robert Nagel, perhaps one of the finest trumpeters alive today, played flawlessly the extremely difficult passages for his instrument.

The percussion work of Mr. DesRoches left nothing to be desired including his obvious attachment for the music which he lightly danced (in good taste not too demonstratively I might add.)

In the five concerts presented by the "Music From Marlboro" foundation, no two performers have been the same. It would appear that the abundance of talented instrumentalists from the summer colony is unlimited. The second capacity audience in less than a week obviously supports these fine concerts and it is hoped that the series will continue for years to come.

Do You Want a Tax Collector For LIFE?

State law grants "tenure" to a twice elected tax collector who has completed an approved course in tax procedures.

The present collector will have lifetime possession of the office if re-elected. This is the voter's last chance for a choice!*

Christine St. John's candidacy is based on the obvious need to keep the office of Princeton Borough tax collector under the control of the voters. If elected she will work for the repeal of the state statute now giving tenure to tax collectors.

She believes that no one, herself included, should keep this position indefinitely.

CAR SALES BRIGHT SPOT

In Latest Business Index. In the face of uncertain economy and mounting threats of inflation, Princeton area residents responded by buying enough automobiles from Princeton dealers to record a 27% upswing in new car sales over the corresponding quarter last year.

The gain was the best and most significant news in an otherwise somewhat inconclusive set of figures comprising TOWN TOPICS' third quarter Business Index for the Princeton community. The almost even balance of plus and minus signs reflected a picture similar to that in the national scene, where major economic indicators have been providing contradictory signs.

The number of cars sold totalled 548, as against a low of 430 a year ago, an increase of 118. The upward trend near the end of the second quarter to avoid the state sales tax which began July 1, thus purging the squeeze on third period figures for 1966.

The small drop of 14% from the second quarter this year can be attributed to the relatively slow days of August and early September when most people are waiting for the '68 model cars to come on the market.

Savings Continue to Rise

Another healthy sign was the modest increase in savings, checking accounts and loans over both the second quarter figure for 1967 and the third quarter a year ago. While savings have been moving up steadily for several quarters, the $3.3 million rise in checking accounts and $1.7 million gain in loans marked a turn around from the previous quarter, which had shown a drop from first quarter figures.

The decline in parking meter receipts from the second quarter, the slower summermonth letter it a normal occurrance during the slower summer months, and is borne out by the total a year ago, which is just $2.30 higher.

Construction Figures Vary.

Building permits are up slightly in the Borough but down 19% in the Township; however, the value of the permits is reversed, with the Township showing a rise of almost 80%. About half of the Township figure is covered by an additional faculty housing complex for Princeton University costing $1.4 million.

The tremendous percentage decrease in the Borough, even though permits rose, signifies a lot of small jobs, rather than two or three big projects such as the $1 million Princeton Plaza or Lloyd Terrace.

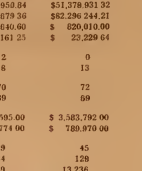
New housing starts, which are always low in the Borough because there's little space left on which to build, are down 44% in the Township, not too surprising considering the sluggishness of the construction industry nationally. A more favorable sign is the jump in property transfers, particularly in the Township, where a gain of more than 100% was registered.

Bell Telephone would appear to be steadily losing telephones in service, but actually, the company has recently completed a switch which puts all the University dormitory phones on the 452 exchange located on Washington Road.

CONSULTANT APPOINTED

By Wood & Tower. Maurice P. Coffee Jr., director of Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia for the past seven years, has joined the firm of Wood & Tower, 90 Nassau Street, as a consultant in the medical facilities division.

In his new position, Mr. Coffee will be engaged in programming and planning the building and expansion of hospitals and medical centers throughout the country. At Jefferson, he participated in the coordination and direction of a $35 million renovation and new construction program.



Maurice Coffee

Mr. Coffee, who will be moving back to Princeton, and living on Prospect Avenue, graduated from Princeton High School and Pennsylvania State University. He received his graduate degree in hospital administration from Northwestern University. His hospital administrative experience includes two years at Lankenau Hospital, Philadelphia, supported by an award of a postgraduate training grant from the American College of Hospital Administration.

Prior to leaving Jefferson, Mr. Coffee was cited by the Delaware Valley Hospital council "in recognition of his devotion to the cause of hospitals and his leadership as Chairman of the Forum" of that body.

GDI APPOINTS THREE

At Instrumentation Division.

Three new appointments at General Devices' Instrumentation Division located in Monmouth Junction, have been announced by President Jay Bruster.

John A. Riedel, 41 Langley Road, Kendall Park, formerly Chief Engineer, has been promoted to the position of technical vice-president, where he will have responsibility for all of the company's technical products. A graduate of the U.S. Military Academy, he is experienced in the design and development of telemetering systems and has supervised engineering projects for aircraft manufacturing firms.

Neil Maestre, of Willingboro, who came to GDI from RCA, has been appointed Chief Engineer. He received his BSEE degree from Drexel Institute of Technology and is presently enrolled in graduate school there working toward his master's degree. He also studied electronics for more than eight years at several U.S. Air Force schools and specialized in electronic engineering while at Indiana Technical College.

Charles M. Cottrell, of Tom's River, was named material development engineer, specializing in advanced electronic instrumentation, and Robert T. Vonderhaar as sales service administrator.

Mr. Vonderhaar has the benefit of extensive experience in sales management. His former employers include the Cleveland Corporation, the J. Arthur Moore Company and Black, Sivalls and Bryson. He will aid Applied Research in its expansion into the field of instrumentation for research.

He holds a degree in industrial engineering from St. Louis University. A former resident of St. Louis and Kansas City, Mo., he lives with his wife and five children in North Brunswick.

Formerly employed by Perkin-Elmer, the Lawrence Township resident was associated with the firm's instrument division in its atomic absorption and infra-red sections. Prior to that he was an engineer with Sperry Gyroscope Company in Great Neck, New York.

Mr. Keats, who holds a master of science degree from the University of Connecticut, has two patents in the precision measurement field and three pending in electronics and spectrophotometry. He has also written several technical papers.

CHAMBER TO MEET

For Monthly Luncheon. The Research and Education Group of the Princeton Chamber of Commerce will hold its regular monthly meeting on Monday, November 6. The luncheon-meeting is scheduled to begin at 12:15 in the Peacock Inn.

Robert G. Ransome, coordinator of economic development for Somerset County, will be guest speaker. He will discuss the procedures used in a county wide development program using programs he has originated in Somerset County as examples.

Anybody interested in attending should call the Chamber office at 921-7676 to make reservations for the luncheon.

TWO ARE NAMED

By Applied Research. Princeton Applied Research Corporation has appointed George H. Keats to the position of senior

ARCHITECTS MERGE

To Form Partnership. Leo H. Mahony and John M. Zvosec have gone into partnership by merging their firms. Both men have concentrated in architectural and planning for the past five years in private practice.

Current clients of the new firm include the Diocese of Trenton, State of New Jersey, South Brunswick Library Trustees, New Jersey Hospital Association, Hopewell and Montgomery Junction Fire Companies and Ewing Township.

Mr. Mahony, Woodsville Road in Hopewell, and Mr. Zvosec, 2885 Main Street in Lawrenceville, will maintain Mr. Mahony's office, 221 Witherspoon Street. The new firm will continue to offer general architectural services as well as services in the fields of municipal planning.

One Way to Save Money.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

From the letter of Mr. Al bridge Smith last week, learned for the first time that the office of Borough Tax Collector receives a salary of $2400. Upon inquiry I also learned that the Tax Collector in the Township receives $356 This discrepancy is startling, to say the least.

My friend and neighbor, Christine St. John seems to me to make eminently good sense in running on a platform pledging to seek a reduction in salary commensurate with the actual demands of the job and the repeal of tenure for elected officials.

Although I have been a resident of Princeton in both the Township and the Borough for over 30 years, I had never been aware of this situation. My support of Mrs. St. John is not based on partisanship since I am a registered Democrat (who often splits the ticket) but her position appeals to my common sense as a tax payer.

Cease and Desist.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I deplore the attempt of Democratic candidates for Borough Office to make political capital out of the work of the Regional Development Association (Trenton Times, October 23).

For the past 12 months, it has been my privilege to meet regularly with 22 men, residents of half a dozen municipalities and three counties, including, in many cases, the chief executives or chief planning officers of these governmental units. In their efforts to devise ways and means of alleviating traffic congestion in the tri-county area through the promotion of various bypasses, these men have not only set aside all party considerations, but they have also attempted to arrange compromises and agreements between the several governmental units involved that would have been impossible for a single municipal agency to achieve.

The Regional Development Association was formed in the clear knowledge that the problems of megalopolis can be met only through intercounty and intermunicipal cooperation. Both Route 92 and the "Loop Road," hopefully, will pass through three counties and several municipalities, all of them beyond the boundaries of the Borough of Princeton.

The official representatives of Princeton Borough in the Association are Arthur P. Morgan, Chairman of the Planning Board and Alan Carrick, Councilman and a member of the Planning Board; of Princeton Township, Hans Sander, Chairman of the Planning Board, and John Wallace, Committeeman and a member of the Planning Board. To the best of my knowledge all of these gentlemen are members of the Republican Party, but at no time have they sought political advantage because of their membership in the Association. Mr. Carrick is chairman of the Association's Committee on Operations, which is specifically charged with the responsibility for alignments and the acquisition of rights-of way.

He has not mentioned this fact in the current political campaign. I suggest that his Democratic opponents follow his example.

If the desire for partisan advantage should supplant the good will that now exists among the members of the Regional Development Association in their efforts to provide traffic relief in the area, every citizen of Princeton will be the loser.

Time to Face the Future.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It is election time again and once more we go to the polls to determine the future of our community. But is it really the future that many of us have in mind or are we too busily determined to preserve the rosier past that existed actually only in our minds?

To judge by our past performances, we are indeed hesitant to face up to what the future has in store for us. Not since Bill Marvel held a seat on the Township Committee has the future participated in our local government.

Perhaps the best example that comes to mind that illustrates the backwardness of our one-party Township Committee was the last public hearing for the new zoning ordinance. It was quite a spectacle. I wonder how many of us remember it.

The auditorium of Community Park School was filled, the overwhelming majority hostile to the new legislation. Opposition took every possible form; from highly-paid attorneys pleading for common sense.

I remember that even the provision for regulating outdoor antenna was written so ineptly that it could have been interpreted to forbid the installation of 1000-watt outdoor spot lights! The impression given that night was that of a unique combination unawareness and ineptitude. An extreme case? Maybe, but a representative one.

Princeton Township needs minority representation on its Township Committee to pry into and to pry loose the secrecy of our board-of-directors approach to local government, to make us aware of what our problems are and what they are likely to be and what is being planned to meet them. We need a Democrat on the Township Committee to keep our local government in touch with the needs of our community and there is no better man for this task than Montague Brown.

Now you can give your little girl the doll house you once dreamed of owning

Here is a wonderfully enchanting, imaginative toy!

- It's authentic. You've probably seen a town house like this in New York or London. It's four stories high with eight rooms.
- It's loaded with charm. From its hand-carved door, to its panelled shutters, with its two 1880-style fireplaces, to bright (but washable) paint.
- It's play-oriented. Made to standard doll furniture scale — but with large, different-sized rooms to stimulate imagination and make playing easy.
- It's large and sturdy. Measures 48 inches high by 30 inches wide and 20 inches deep. Made of select ½-inch plywood for years of use.
- It's complete. Unlike some toys, there's nothing you have to do but watch your child have fun. Completely assembled and painted.

Each doll house comes with an engraved brass plate bearing your child's name and the year. Your little girl will enjoy this doll house for years, then pass it on to her children.

Notice: Because each house is handcrafted, only a limited number of orders can be guaranteed for Christmas delivery. Your $25 deposit can secure your order on a first-come basis.

grounds. In a prepared statement read before the Council, Chapter President Robert M. Worcester said: "We feel that it abridges that basic right guaranteed in the first amendment, freedom of assembly, and that it is also vague, a violation of the fourteenth amendment."

The law, which was opposed by several speakers, was said to be aimed at youths who "congregate" on Nassau Street. But not one youth was present at the Council meeting. To many of us concerned about the civil liberties of all citizens, this is a disturbing fact.

Another Service Offered.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Your lead article of October 19 concerning the Princeton University League unfortunately overlooked one of the more active service committees of that organization.

The Furniture Exchange Committee maintains several garage-loads of used furniture which it rents at nominal cost to graduate students and faculty members visiting the University from abroad. Due to the well-known international makeup of the University, the demand far exceeds the supply. The minimal budget on which the Committee must operate forces it to rely heavily on donations of used furniture from members of the Princeton community.

It is to make people aware of our activities and of the good use to which we can put their unwanted (though still serviceable) furniture that we write this letter. Further information may be obtained at the University League Office, 171 Broadmead, 452-3600.

MARGARET S. SOUTHERLAND
JEAN A. MAHONEY
Co-chairmen, Furniture Exchange Committee, Princeton University League

The foregoing letter should help publicize this activity.

Action on Housing Urged.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Township Committee at it's last meeting unanimously passed a resolution certifying that there is a need for middle income housing. The unanimous vote was a commendable first step but much remains to be done to solve Princeton's housing problem. The resolution permits a non-profit corporation made up of churches, institutions and organizations to formulate a housing program that can help alleviate the shortage of middle income housing for teachers, municipal employees and other long-term residents of our community.

It is not quite accurate that "nothing has been decided," as was reportedly stated by Mr. Volweider. The resolution permits the newly-formed Princeton Community Housing Corporation to apply for state funds under recently passed legislation. Lawyers, planners and architects will work with responsible representatives of many organizations and prepare a plan that will ultimately result in new housing units for middle income families.

We are confident that the Princeton Housing Corporation will bring to Township Committee the best possible solution for Princeton's need for middle income housing. The Township Committee should join in and help this activity. The mayor should designate his representative to this group.

It should be noted that there is more to be done to provide adequate housing for low income members of our community. No provisions are being made to deal with this urgent need. As recommended by the

EIGHT ARE FINED

In Borough Court. Eight Princeton area residents were fined Monday in traffic court hy Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr.

John J. Carroll, 61, 7 Franklin Terrace, and Francis J. O'Hara III, 34, 9 Birch Avenue, Penington, were each fined $25 for speeding. Mr. Carroll pleaded not guilty.

Six paid fines of $15 each. They are Colin P. Schneeweiss, 17, 31 Carnegie Drive, failure to keep right in an intersection; Donald Randall, 29, 5 Princeton Place, Princeton Junction, late inspection; Bohdan Stefkiwsky, 20, Princeton student, expired registration; Cliff Cota, 41, 204 Ewing Street, no rear license plate; Franic G. Modaffare, 18, North Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, following too closely; and Fred Armstead, 51, 83 Phillips Avenue, Lawrenceville, leaving curb without proper clearance, causing an accident.

In a special session of court last week, Magistrate Tams dismissed a hit-and-run charge against Dr. Eric F. Goldman, Professor of History at Princeton University, when a witness testified he could identify Professor Goldman's car but could not positively him as the driver.

Dr. Goldman had been charged by Ptl. Allen Benkert with hitting a car parked in a Witherspoon lot on August 28, causing as estimated $125 damage. Professor Goldman said that he could not remember such an incident.

The state has suspended the licenses of two for exceeding the point limit

Richard E. Utman, 41, Cherrybrook Drive, was halted for one month, and Reginald Carter, 31, 75 Columbia Avenue, Honewell for two months.

Timberrrrr!

Shoppers and passersby on Nassau Street, accustomed to the steady drone of the chain saw the past few weeks, may feel the results next summer. As many as 12 trees will no longer be around to provide shade.

Crews under the direction of the State Highway Department have been cutting down dead and diseased trees, mostly Elms, afflicted with Dutch Elm disease, and one sycamore. According to Borough Engineer Thomas Cawley, the crews will move into the Township soon and begin taking down others on the Princeton-Kingston Road.

Mr. Cawley said that the Borough Shade Tree Commission had obtained approval from the state to plant new trees along Nassau Street, and will do so at the rate of about three or four a year.

PURSE IS STOLEN

From Nassau St. Shop. Miss Judy Gundalian, part owner of the Picadilly Shop, a women's apparel shop at 200 Nassau Street, called police Tuesday at 5:15 to report that her purse had been stolen from the rear of the building. Among its contents was a wallet containing $40, police said.

Borough Chief Peter J. McCrohan said that the incident was just another in what he described as a "rash of such thefts."

Earlier in the week, Gordon Jacobs, owner of Gordon's Radio Shop, 221 Witherspoon Street, reported the theft of a $50 amplifier. He told police it had been left near the front door by a customer.

Couch on Fire. Late Friday night, David Toole Jr., 27 Chestnut Street, called police to report that a couch in his living room was on fire.

Patrolmen Arthur Jackson and Ronald Holliday responded and extinguished the blaze with a water extinguisher from their patrol car. The fire was confined to the couch which, police said, was extensively burned.

PSEUKAY SETS PROGRAM

Registration Opens Monday. The Negro organization, Pseukay, will hold registration for its 1967-68 program from 1 to 6 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church. Herbert McGuin is director.

The program includes a Mr. Fixit Club for boys, cooking, sewing and beauty for girls, a college-bound club, men's sports, fun trips and cultural trips. Registration is $1.

A staff of adult volunteers will assist the director. The assistance of other adults with special skills is sought to give new dimensions to the program.

LEAGUE TO GATHER

For General Meeting. Wednesday, November 1, is the date for the next general membership meeting of the Princeton League of Women Voters. The meeting will begin at 8:15 in the Unitarian Church on Cherry Hill Road.

A brief refreshment period will precede the featured business of the evening, a panel discussion on the merits of changing the League's emphasis from diversified community programs to unified national programs.

Panel members will include Mrs. Jon Baumunk, Mrs. Ronald Buhler, Mrs. Melvin Gottlieb and Mrs. Frederick Mezey.

HIT PLAY ON VIEW

For Civil Liberties Union. "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead," the heralded newcomer to Broadway, will be featured at the first annual theatre party of the American Civil Liberties Union. Princeton residents interested in seeing the play on the evening of Friday, November 3, can do so by contacting Michael Sherman of Canal Road in Griggstown at 201-359-5270 or 212-280-3377.

Tickets for the orchestra and mezzanine will cost $13 and $12 respectively. Checks payable to the American Civil Liberties Union should be mailed to Mr. Sherman.

Bus transportation will be provided to the Alvin Theatre in New York at $2 for a round-trip ticket. To be eligible for the bus leaving the Princeton Shopping Center at 6:30, prospective theatre-goers should mail their checks, made out to cash, to Mr. Sherman.

Citizens Advisory Committee report on housing, the Township Committee should invite the Borough Housing Authority to work out solutions for this un-met need. (Low income Township families who have a low priority are on the waiting list for such housing in the Borough. The Borough has some 120 units, whereas the Township has none.)

The existence of sub-standard housing in violation of the housing code in "beautiful" Princeton is also a problem. All of these problems can be solved. It is encouraging to see the Township Committee begin.

Paul Jacobs and Vietoam.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Let me say right now that I admire Mr. Jacob's marvelous self confidence. He is wooing the voters of Princeton with the promise that if he is elected he single-handed will end the war in Viet Nam! viz. "Republicans wanted to end the war in Viet Nam. Vote Paul Jacobs State Assemblyman." and "Democrats wanted to end the war in Viet Nam. Vote Paul Jacobs State Assembly man."

Certainly one can not question his motives, since every American would like to see an honorable end to the war in Viet Nam! However, it is difficult for this writer to see how the above mentioned candidate can promise that HIS ELECTION will bring about the desired results.

We have read of the small voice crying in the wilderness. Perhaps his is that voice. Its a beautiful thought, but I can't believe that to-day's intelligent voter is going to fall for that kind of a political smoke screen.

Has he outlined exactly how he plans to go about accomplishing this result? Especially from a seat in the STATE GOVERNMENT!

Let us let wiser heads prevail and may the voters of Princeton choose their candidates on November 7 on the basis of their true qualifications for the office for which they are running.

Matnrity vs. Appearance.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In the October 12th issue of TOWN TOPICS, the following question of the week was posed: "Governor Hughes says now that he is in favor of lowering the voting age in New Jersey to 18. Are you?" Mr. Ben Herrman replied negatively, asking, "If they don't want to get their hair cut, why should they be able to vote?"

Though I admit that there may be legitimate arguments against the lowering of the voting age, I should like to point out the irrationality of Mr. Herrman's statement. It seems to me that the length of one's hair should not be the determinant factor of his eligibility to vote.

Mr. Herrman went on to say that, "If they want to look like little kids, then treat them like kids." I daily encounter college professors, many of them with doctorates, who sport longer hair and look more disheveled than many of my contemporaries. Surely no one would seriously argue that one's appearance is indicative of his maturity. I am acquainted with many college students who are much more aware of the significant aspects of current political issues than are their parents, and also many who are presently fighting for this nation of short-haired adults.

OPEN HOUSE will be held from 2 to 5 Sunday at the new Princeton Borough Hall, across Stockton Street from 142-year-old Thomson Hall (right), occupied by the Borough for the past 30 years. According to the Princeton Historical Society, Borough Council met in the Rose Cottage on Stockton Street during the 1920's, and previously in the now-razed University Hotel at Nassau and University Place. Earlier sessions were held in taverns, bars and private homes. The Historical Society, in compliment to the new Borough Hall, will also hold an open house from 5 to 5 at Bainbridge House on Nassau Street, exhibiting "100 Years in Princeton," an off-beat show drawn from its extensive photo collection and designed by Don Warnock.

NEW MEMBERS TO MEET

At College Club Tea. A tea will be held Monday, November 6, in the home of Mrs. James Hillier, 22 Arreton Road, for new and old members of the Women's College Club of Princeton.

The get-acquainted tea is part of the College Club's program for new members. Also featured in the program are several coffees in the homes of Mrs. Barton Kreuzer, Mrs. Carl E. Stair, Mrs. Arthur L. Burroughs, Mrs. Walton Van Winkle, Mrs. Frederick F. Stephan and Mrs. John F. Mason.

Mrs. Carl H. Sjostrom, president of the College Club, and Mrs. Orrin J. Wenzel, chairman of the scholarship fund sponsored by the Club, are working on money raising plans for the coming year. Next June, the money will be presented to college bound girls graduating from Princeton High School, Stuart Country Day School and Princeton Day School.

MEETING ANNOUNCED

By Realtors Board. The regular monthly meeting of the Mercer County Board of Realtors will take place Thursday, October 26 at 6:30 in the Assembly Room of the Nassau Inn.

Mr. Ellis G. Willard, executive director of the Presbyterian Homes of the State of New Jersey, will be guest speaker. The developer of the Meadow Lakes Retirement Community will discuss the various problems he faced in constructing and selling homes to prospective buyers.

CANDIDATES TO SPEAK

At Reru Sicao Forum. William Schluter and John Selecky, Republican candidates for the State Assembly, will discuss campaign issues at a forum in the Chestnut Street Fire house on Monday at 8:30.

The two candidates have invited their Democrat rivals, Lloyd Carver and Francis McManimon to appear at the forum in open debate, conducted by an impartial moderator.

According to Mr. Schluter and Mr. Selecky, the Democrats have not participated in any open public debates up to the present. "They did send us a return wire, but from reading it, we cannot tell if they intend to accept our invitation," the candidates said.

The Democrats' telegram gave as a reason for not being interested in the possibility of a debate on Monday that their "current campaign schedule is providing sufficient public discussion." They said they "share the desire to reach the widest audience possible in the most efficient way."

RUMMAGE SALE SET

By Pennington Church. A rummage sale, sponsored by the young couples club of the Pennington Methodist Church, will be held next Saturday, November 4, from 9 to 3 at the Church House, adjacent to the church on North Main Street.

Those wishing to donate articles should call Mrs. David Neiswender between 9 and 3 during the three days preceding the sale. Her number is 883-3437.

WIVES TO MEET

At University Affair. The Wyman Club has scheduled its next meeting for Wednesday, November 1 in the Faculty Lounge of the Engineering Quadrangle, beginning at 8.

A representative of the Princeton Historical Society will be guest speaker. All wives of undergraduate and graduate students at the University are invited to attend.

Graditude Expressed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

This is an Open Letter to the Princeton Community:

Many of us do not appreciate the importance of having a good hospital in our community until we have personal need for its services. I have recently had occasion to become aware of this fact. I now wish to give public expression to my gratitude for the high quality of expert service and devoted care that I received from everyone at the Princeton Hospital, without exception, from the physician in charge of my case and the surgeon and his assistants to the excellent corps of nurses, and the volunteer nurses aids and the various members of the "housekeeping" staff.

I was particularly impressed by the very fine spirit that is reflected by every person with whom I came in contact. The cheerful attitude of the entire staff is not only an important element in the mental health of the patients, but it also reflects a good administrative policy and supervisory personnel relationship.

Princeton may be proud of its hospital. I am deeply grateful for it.

It is my hope that this note of appreciation will help to encourage generous support by all who value its potential services. It is probably the most important of our local civic institutions.

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP Needs

Would these problems be solved now if Princeton had a more CREATIVE township committee?

1. An unsafe, unsightly, unsanitary shopping center.
2. An overloaded post office with no place to go.
3. An underdeveloped research park with undeveloped tax revenues.
4. Regional planning by litigation.
5. Growing traffic congestion without any new proposals in sight.
6. Housing for the people Princeton can't do without: its teachers, its police, its retired, its lifelong citizens.
7. Loss of federal funds for our Green Acres.

WHY HASN'T THE COMMUNITY BEEN ALERTED TO THESE PROBLEMS BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE TO PLAN?

Because one-party government is complacent government.

Because new thinking is absent from the Township Committee.

WE NEED A FRESH POINT OF VIEW ON THE TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE.

Don't Let the Future Just HAPPEN

Democratic Candidate on the Township Committee

Monty Brown Says: A more creative Township Committee would PLAN AHEAD to achieve:

1. A shopping center with safe traffic controls, more effective garbage disposal, a more attractive, properly screened area.
2. A location or combination of locations of post office facilities which provides services without endangering property values or destroying the character of neighborhoods.
3. Annual goals for finding and attracting desirable research organizations to our research park, with one committeeman assigned to this increasingly important task.
4. Better relationships with neighboring communities so that we can avoid radical changes in zoning that have adverse effects on Princeton.
5. A minibus system, on the model of those used in other suburban communities, to relieve harried commuters, mothers, students, teenagers and reduce traffic congestion and parking lot blight.
6. A plan for reasonable and and attractive low and middle income housing before unattractive, stopgap alternatives are forced upon us.
7. The effective use of federal funds.

News Of The CHURCHES

MEMORIAL CONCERT SET

Honoring Thomas Hillian. A program of negro spirituals will be presented by the senior choir of Mount Pisgah A.M.E. Church at 4 Sunday, in memory of the late Thomas Hillian. The Hillian Memorial Organ Fund Committee is sponsor.

Mr. Hillian, a native of Cheraw ,S. C. was 64 when he died last January 9 in Princeton Hospital. He was a longtime member of the church's Senior Ushers Board. Head orderly at Princeton University's McCosh Infirmary for 45 years, he is said to have never missed one of Princeton's home football games during all of those years.

"We, at Mount Pisgah, feel very keenly the influence and personal impact of the life of Mr. Hillian," the committee said in announcing the concert. "To all who really knew him, he was often addressed simply as 'Tom.' We desire to perpetuate that memory in a concrete way. We believe in the immortality of the human personality. Therefore,, at this particular time in the history of our church and its ministry, the new organ we hope to purchase will serve indefinitely as a memorial to the name, times and efforts of Thomas Hillian.

"The organ will certainly be an inspiration to all who worship at Mount Pisgah. It will be a similar blessing also to those who merely pause infrequently in our sanctuary in their quest for spiritual comfort and consolation. In a sense, this was the kind of spirit one felt in the service which Thomas Hillian rendered to others. This kind of service characterized his life and expressed very clearly his dedication whether it was rendered in his church or at his place of employment."

Members of the committee are Roy Ross, chairman; Mrs. Anne W. Mitchell, secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Lacy, treasurer; Mrs. Fanchion Gordon, Mrs. Essie M. Green, Timothy Johnson, Alphonso Ross, Thomas Smith and Mrs. Nellie W Ware.

Contributions may be sent to the Thomas Hillian Memorial c/o Mrs. Dorothy Lacy, 73 Birch Avenue.

CHAPLAIN TO PREACH

In San Francisco. The Rev. Dr. Robert P. Montgomery, Presbyterian Chaplain at Princeton University, will preach in Grace Episcopal Cathedral, San Francisco, this Sunday, marking the 450th anniversary of the Protestant Reformation.

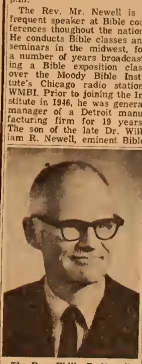
Grace Cathedral, former seat of Bishop James Pike, was the scene of the 1960 "Blake-Pipe" proposal, set forth by the Rev. Dr. Eugene C. Blake, then Stated Clerk of the United Presbyterian Church. The proposal resulted in the creation of the Consultation on Church Union, presently involving eight Protestant denominations.

According to Dr. Montgomery, " It now appears that the frame of reference of Dr. Blake's proposal was too narrow. Vatican Council II has taken place, since that sermon was delivered. One ought not to romanticize that event, but on the other hand, any talk now of the 'Reunion of Christ's Church' must take seriously the 'new look' of the Roman Catholic Church."

TUESDAY LECTURE SET

At Westerly Road Church. The Rev. Philip R. Newell, Biblical scholar from the Moody Institute, will give a series of Tuesday evening lectures at Westerly Road Church, beginning this week. The series is titled "Lord, Teach Us to Pray (a study of what prayer is — and isn't)." The meetings are held at 8 p.m.

The Rev. Mr. Newell is a frequent speaker at Bible conferences thoughout the nation. He conducts Bible classes and seminars in the midwest, for a number of years broadcasting a Bible exposition class over the Moody Bible Institute's Chicago radio station, WMBI. Prior to joining the Institute in 1946, he was general manager of a Detroit manufacturing firm for 19 years. The son of the late Dr. William R. Newell, eminent Bible teacher and expositor, he is a graduate of the University of Michigan.



The Rev. Philip R. Newell

THREE SEMINARS SET

At Westminster Three Saturday morning seminars on church music begin this Saturday at Westminster Choir College. Future dates are November 4 and 11.

The first two meetings will be concerned with service playing and organ repertoire, vocal technique, conducting and choral repertoire, and junior and senior youth choirs. The final seminar will discuss the art of organ accompaniment, vocal technique, conducting, choral repertoir and the boy choir.

The faculty will include Dr. Lee H. Bristol Jr., Westminster president; Dr. George Lynn, music director at the Choir College; Dr. Donald Bryant, music director of the Columbus Boychoir School; Professors James McKeever and Herbert Pate of the Westminster vocal department; Joan H. Lippincot, chairman of the organ department, and Virginia Cheesman, associate professor of organ.

Enrollment is open to all interested individuals. Inquiries should be directed to the Continuing Education Seminar, Westminster Choir College.

DELEGATES TO REPORT

On Triennial Meeting. The Women's Association of First Presbyterian and Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Churches will meet at 8 p.m. this Thursday at First Church to hear delegates' report on the Presbyterian Women's Triennial held at Purdue University last summer.

Conference highlights, presented under the theme "You Were There," will be given by Mrs. Gayraud Willmore of Witherspoon, Mrs. John L. Cullen and Mrs. John L. McKee, both of First Presbyterian. Mrs Rex Gorleigh, president of the Witherspoon women group, will also participate.

The meeting will also put forth the Triennial's recommendations for reorganization of associations and circles in the interest of greater flexibility on the community level. The Triennial purpose is to allow latitude in the choice of study projects and procedures as well as to encourage involvement of association individuals in the community.

CHICKEN BARBECUE SET

At Hopewell Church. The 11th annual Chicken Barbecue at Hopewell Presbyterian Church is scheduled for 5 to 7 this Saturday. The Presbyterian Men and the Service Circle of the Wormen's Association are co-sponsors.

A huge open barbecue pit will provide chicken broiled over charcoal with a special barbecue sauce. The meal will be served in Fellowship Hall, rain or shine. Proceeds will go to the church building fund.

Roy Branham is general chairman this year, with Mrs. William Winterbottom as kitchen chairman. William Merk is in charge of the barbecue pit. The Rev. Robert A. Beringer is host.

Tickets may be obtained from Charles Hutchinson, or at the door.

OBSERVANCE PLANNED

By Church Women United. World Community Day will be marked next Thursday, November 2, by Princeton churchwomen, meeting at All Saints' Chapel, Van Dyke Road. Mrs. George Thomas of Trinity Episcopal Church, is coordinator of the service, sponsored each year by Church Women United.

Tea will be served at 12:30, followed at 1 by a talk by the Rev. Ralph Chandler, secretary of international affairs for the United Presbyterian Church of the USA. Gifts of layettes and children's clothing for the Vietnamese will be received. Gift certificates are available for those who wish to give funds.

All women of the community are invited to attend. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Robert Westover, CWU public relations chairman.

HARVEST DINNER NEXT

At Witherspoon Church. The annual Harvest Home dinner at Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church will be held from 4 to 7 p.m. next Thursday, November 2. Mrs. Howard B. Waxwood Jr. and Mrs. Hugh Walker are co-chairmen.

Reservations may be made through the church office. Takeout dinners will be available. Donation is $2.50 for adults: $1.25 for children under age 12.

The three door sedan.

This Volkswagen has a door on the left to let in the driver. (That's one.) A door on the right to let in the passengers. (That's two.) And a door in the back which is like the tailgate of a conventional wagon. (That's the third, and do you need any more than that?)

To look at it, you'd swear our Squareback is a station wagon. But it really isn't.

Why? Well for one thing it doesn't cost like one. For another, it doesn't park like one. (The Squareback is only six inches longer than the bug. But has three times the storage capacity.)

And since it's a Volkswagen you can be pretty sure it'll use about half as much gasoline as the average wagon. (Our Squareback gets up to 27 miles per gallon.)

So if you're trying to decide between a station wagon and a sedan, why not get the best of two worlds? Buy the sedan that looks like a station wagon.

Obituaries

Clarence W. Hansell, former-ly of 150 Longview Drive, died October 20 at his home on Mer-rit Island, Fla. He was a pio-neer in wireless communica-tions at the Radio Corporation of America.

A native of Indiana, Dr. Hansell was a graduate of Pur-due University. He received an honorary Doctor of Electrical Engineering degree from Pur-due in 1932.

Dr. Hansell joined RCA in 1920 and for the next few years participated in several innova-tions in wireless communica-tions: the development of the first vacuum tube transmitter to handle commercial radio telegraph traffic across the At-lantic, and later the inaugura-tion of the world's first trans-atlantic radio telephone serv-ice.

Named engineer in-charge of the RCA Radio Transmission Laboratory at Rocky Point, L. I., in 1925, Dr. Hansell super-vised the development of vari-ous types of high frequency transmitting equipment now in use throughout the world.

He was named an Associate Laboratory Director in 1934, and four years later transfer-red his activities to the David Sarnoff Research Center in Princeton. In 1959, when RCA Laboratories established the rank of Fellow as a mark of signal scientific achievement, Dr. Hansell was named one of the first Fellows of the Tech-nical Staff.

Since his 1963 retirement, he has lived in Florida where he engaged in independent re-search and writing technical articles.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mildred Hansell, two daugh-ters and a son.

The service was held in the First Presbyterian Church of Port Jefferson, L. I.

Anthony E. Robertson, 53, of River Road, Belle Mead, died October 18 in Johnstown (N. Y.) Hospital. Assistant direc-tor of research at the Ingersoll Rand Research Center, he had been vacationing at Glovers-ville, N.Y.

Dr. Robertson was born in Center, Mo. He received a doc-torate in chemistry from the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute in 1936.

A chemical engineer, he was involved in evaluation and rec-ommendation of all research projects for Ingersoll-Rand in addition to administrative du-ties.

Previously, Dr. Robertson was chief of operations analy-sis in the New Products Re-search Laboratory of FMC in Cleveland; vice-president of research and development with Aerial Products, Inc., Elkton, Md., and chief of me-chanisms and services at the Naval Ordnance Laboratory in Silver Springs, Md. His ear-lier experience was with Esso Research and Development.

Dr. Robertson's early activi-ties were concerned with the chemistry of fuels, explosives and propellants. More recent-ly he was associated with air and water purification, under-water technology and the de-velopment of methodologies for system evaluation. He was the originator of 13 patents primarily in the field of fuels, additives and fluidization.

He was a member of the American Chemical Society, the American Ordinance Asso-ciation, the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronau-tics, American Management Association and a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Nellie H. Robertson; and three sisters, Mrs. Newell Brown of Princeton, Mrs. Martha Sasel and Miss Agnes Robertson.

The service was held in the Kimble Funeral Home, the Rev. Reuel Kaighn officiating. Interment was in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn.

William A. French Jr., 69, formerly of 60 Parkside Drive, died October 23 in Fort Lau-derdale, Fla.

Born in Wilmington, N.C., Mr. French was with Western Electric Company until his re-tirement in 1950. He lived in Princeton for 11 years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary R. French, and a broth-er, Llewellyn French of Wilm-ington, N.C.

The service will be held this Thursday morning in Andrews' Mortuary, Wilmington. Inter-ment will also be in Wilming-ton.

Willard Robinson, 56, of 10 Denow Road, Lawrenceville, suffered a fatal heart attack October 21 while he was driv-ing his car through the Motor Vehicle Inspection Station at Baker's Basin on Route 1. He was a bookbinder for Mac-millan-Crellish and a Quigley of Tren-ton and had lived in this area all of his life.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Grace R. Robinson; one son, Spec 5 John S. Robinson ser-ving with the Army in Vietnam; a daughter, Mrs. Sally Molnar of Hillsdale, Mich.; three grandchildren; his mother, Mrs. Lulu Johnson of Lawr-enceville; one brother, Walter H., and a sister, Mrs. Julius Denow, both of Lawrenceville.

The service will be held at 11 a.m. Friday in the Black-well Memorial Home, 21 North Main Street, Pennington, the Rev. Dana Fearon of Lawr-enceville Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment will be in Pennington Cemetery.

Mrs. Anna C. James, 75, died October 29 at her home on Grandview Road, Skillman. The widow of Edward B. James, she was resident of the Skillman area for more than 50 years.

Surviving are two sons, Ed-ward A. and Leonard P. of Skillman; two daughters, Mrs. Herbert Auerbach of Montreal and Mrs. Lawrence Golden of Princeton; 14 grandchildren; two brothers, Timothy J. O'Connell of Brooklyn and Den-nis O'Connell of Hopkintown, Mass.; and a sister, Mrs. Bridget Allen of Cork, Ire-land.

Requiem high mass was cele-brated in St. Alphonsus Church. Interment was in the parish cemetery.

Mrs. Bobbie C. Davis of Bloomington, Ill., died October 19 in Princeton Hospital after a brief illness. She was stricken while visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Gray of 17 Pin Oak Drive.

A school teacher for 34 years, she was a graduate of Phillips University, Enid, Okla., and held an MA from Oklahoma University.

The widow of Orrin H. Dav-is, she is survived by her daughter and a granddaugh-ter.

The service was held in Bloomington, with interment in Park Hill Cemetery. Mem-orial gifts may be made to the Leukemia Society of America, 211 E. 43rd Street, New York 10017. Arrangements here were made by the Kimble Funeral Home.

Harold E. Matthews, 74, for-merly of Hopewell, died Octo-ber 23 at his home in Ridge Manor, Fla.

A retired pharmacist, he was a graduate of the Phila-delphia College of Pharmacy.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Luella L. Matthews; a brother, George, and a sister, Mrs. George Betts, both of Cali-fornia.

Graveside services will be held at 2 p.m. this Friday in Rosemont Cemetery, the Rev. Kenneth Hummell of Hopewell Methodist Church officiating.

Ludwig (Lou) E. Novak, 86, of North Main Street, Hights-town, died October 22 in Princeton Hospital.

A native of Czechoslovakia, Mr. Novak was custodian at the Peddie School for 20 years before his retirement. He lived in the Hightstown area for the past 20 years.

The service was held in Hightstown by the Rev. Robert Brower of St. Paul's Lutheran Church officiating. Interment was in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

CHURCH UNION IS TOPIC Of Talk By Mrs. Harbison

Mrs. E. Harris Harbison, one of the few members of the eight-denomination Consulta-tion on Church Union, will speak at 8 p.m. next Thursday in Princeton Methodist Church under the auspices of the wo-men's Society of Christian Ser-vice.

Women from Princeton churches whose denominations are involved in the Consulta-tion, have been invited to at-tend. The churches include Mt. Pisgah AME, All Saints' Cha-pel, Trinity Church, St. An-drew's, First and Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Churches and Calvary Baptist through its dual affiliation with the United Church of Christ.

Mrs. Harbison, who is also associate editor of Presbyter-ian Life, will discuss recent event in COCU. The Marck Bleacher Circle will act as hostesses.

CHURCH PLANS DINNER

Honoring United Nations. Calvary Baptist Church will hold a United Nations dinner Sunday beginning at 5:40 p.m. Mrs. Esther Hymer, special assistant in the American Bap-tist Convention's department of intermentional affairs will be the speaker.

The dinner will feature food items representing the various countries belonging to the U. N. There will also be an ex-hibit of dolls and stamps re-presenting the U.N. member nations.

TOWN TOPICS goes into every home and place of business in Princeton. By their own figures, no other newspaper does half as well.

to this little grey house by the road Happily located on a wee private lane, it is still only half a block from Nassau Street and within easy walking distance of town and gown. Perfect for a young family (three bedrooms, one and a half baths) or for the retiree who wants to dwindle to a small house with large rooms. Details include mellow panelling in the living and dining rooms, wide floor boards, private study with bookshelves enough for a profesor, country kitchen with breakfast and laundry areas, And a gem of a patio sheltered by a grape arbor and surrounded by green thumb, no maintenance planting For the buyer to whom location is of prime importance, this house is a real find. Ours alone at $51,500

Also — a complete selection of homes in all price ranges — in Princeton and nearby areas.

The GREATEST . . . BEST . . . FASTEST . . . How many times have you seen and heard these words in ads selling service . . . we admit, we've used them ourselves. But we have found that you can't sell a service with superlatives! We simply say that we think our TV Repair Service is merely better than adequate . . . it's only GOOD.

We have trained, competent technicians with years of experience in their profession to back that statement.

And most of all, we have many satisfied customers . . which is, after all, our ultimate goal!

Do us a service . . . call 921-8500 today so that we may serve you!

NEW EXCLUSIVE—200 YEARS OLD: That's our guess about the age of the oldest part of this wonderful Lawrenceville farm house which has just come on the market. When it was renovated and redecorated two years ago an imaginative modern wing was added so that now the house contains: a stone-floored entrance hall with a pair of large closets, living-dining room 20' x 32' with fireplace, comfortable, book-lined library-family room with powder room, sliding glass doors to the terrace and convenient serving bar to connect it with the kitchen. Inviting stone floored country kitchen has open ceiling beams and room for everything. Upstairs, three bedrooms, dressing room and bath. Finished fourth bedroom on the third floor. On an acre with trees and a beautifully fenced and filtered pool. $44,500

JUST A FEW MINUTES NORTH OF PRINCETON: in a welcoming young neighborhood we'd like you to see this appealing barn red house on its ¾ acre with trees. Well arranged around a center hall and all on one floor are living room, dining room, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths and fine kitchen with balconied breakfast area overlooking step down family room with fireplace and sliding glass doors to a brick terrace. A full beadroom second story has plumbing and heating roughed in for easy future expansion. One car garage and basement. Attractively landscaped grounds with swimming pool. All city utilities $34,500

PEERING OVER THE KITCHEN SINK, WE SAW THE PRINCETON CREW SKIM BY: with a view like that the children will fight to do the dishes. In fact, the whole family will discover that life under this handsome roof seems altogether different—somehow more exciting. Every one of the seven rooms and two baths shares the same dramatic, lofty vista of Lake Carnegie Take a peek, we promise you won't be disappointed. $75,500

COUNTRY RENTAL: 15 minutes from town — out the Great Road to Blawenburg, we have an attractive small two story on a lovely acre which can be occupied immediately. Entrance hall, step-down living room with stone floor, open ceiling beams and fireplace, separate dining room, sunny kitchen. 3 bedrooms and bath on second. Basement and garage. $195.00 per month.

GENERATIONS: have loved this engaging small house, nicknamed "Gingerbread Cottage" for the little Victorian touches added at the end of the 19th Century. Inside, despite necessary modernization, the mood is very much of the earlier 1800's when the house was built. Delightful square living room with fireplace, dining room with the same proportions and an open beam ceiling, sunny country kitchen, lavatory and screened porch overlooking a sweet old fashioned garden. Upstairs, 3 bedrooms and bath. Barn with second floor studio. $30,000

TR

"No man is an island," but you can come close in this jewel-like setting of green lawns and magnificent trees. A completely unusual and exceptional house — an oasis from the world.

The large living room, with stunning marble fireplace, has french doors opening to stone terrace. The dining room (also with fireplace) can entertain the most elegant dinner party. Kitchen is up to date and has space for breakfast area. Three existing bedrooms and two baths are enough now, but the huge attic has many expansion possibilities.

Situated on three of the prettiest acres in Princeton Township and including a small guest cottage. Offered at $69,900

PRINCETON BOROUGH

Two delightful new Colonials designed by William Thompson. On small but well-planted lots on a quiet borough cul-de-sac, these houses are nearing completion.

Both have city water and sewer, living room with fireplaces, good modern kitchens, separate dining rooms and generous two car garages. Both are centrally air conditioned. Both have studies and ample baths.

One house features four bedrooms, the other has three plus a beautiful large room over the garage which can be finished as a bedroom, studio, dormitory or playroom.

Take your pick at $54,500 or $53,000. There is still time to choose your own decor.

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

$46,000 buys this brand new 4 bedroom, 3 bath bi-level on a quiet circle just a few blocks from Nassau Street. Fine kitchen, large dining area, living room, recreation room with fireplace. Convenient 2 car garage with room for bicycles and a work bench. Builder will finish and decorate to suit the new owners fancy.

Question Of The Week

Question: Who do you think will win the Princeton mayoralty election — Patterson or Alexander?

Where asked: Nassau Street.

Jay Turner, Hamilton Avenue, PHS student and member of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad. Patterson. I think he's done a good job as mayor. I think he has some good ideas for next term. I like his ore about trees. With all the new construction going up today, taking the trees with it, Princeton will soon look like a big development area.

Greg Bancroft, 28 Fisher Avenue, groundskeeper for Bernard Peyton: I think Patterson will be reelected. It's my opinion and I think its the opinion of the town itself, that we've been satisfied with the job Patterson has done. I think there is a feeling that Alexander would try to make some drastic changes and I don't feel the bulk of Princetonians want any change. Either way the election will be close.

Marvin Trotman, 80 Linden Lane, school teacher: Alexander. He's a better man, he has more ideas, more concrete ideas. Patterson's been in a long time. He hasn't done a thing. Alexander is a good man. I've talked to him a few times. He lets you know what is going on. The present administration is very poor. Nothing has been done about low income housing. I tried to talk to Patterson about getting a Negro to serve as director of the new Youth Center — we have a lot of Negroes right here in Princeton who are qualified — but I see where they've hired some guy from way out in Minnesota.

Angelo Bracoloni, Trenton, PHS teacher: No doubt about it—Alexander! He's far superior. I know Archie. I know his father, I think he would make a good mayor.

Saul Fox, 35 Hamilton Avenue, insurance salesman: I think Mayor Patterson will win.

Mrs. Saul Fox: I think Patterson will win because he's been a pretty good mayor.

Mrs. Ellen Wexler, 100 Clover Lane, housewife: I'm for Alexander. I think he's a very bright, attractive young man. He's running a good race and I think he has a better chance than any of the previous Democratic candidates — but I don't feel he's going to win. I think people are really pleased with the job Patterson has done.

Mrs. Percy H. Wood, 54 Hodge Road, housewife: I certainly hope Patterson will. I think he's been a fine mayor. He's accomplished many things. Print it in big, black letters!

Mrs. John Ferguson, 159 Hamilton Avenue, housewife: I think Mr. Alexander will. I think Princeton could use some new blood, some new ideas, sort of a rebirth. We've been here five years and I feel Patterson has fallen into some what of a rut.

Mrs. Bruce Alberts, Clover Lane, housewife: I'd like to see Alexander win. He sounds like he has some good ideas. I remember reading in TOWN TOPICS where he went to Washington to try to solicit funds for some projects he wanted to carry out in the Borough. It appears like he is putting forth some initiative to get things done.

Mrs. Richard Jeffrey, 55 Patton Avenue, housewife: I think Patterson will win because he's been a successful incumbent. From what I've heard, people are satisfied with the job he's done — at least they are not dissatisfied to the point where there would be any upset. I'll probably vote for Alexander.

Mrs. Charles M. Jones, 140 Parkside Drive, housewife: I can tell you who I hope will win it. I happen to be a dyed-in-the-wool Republican. I think Patterson will win.

Mrs. Duncan Robertson, West Drive, Lawrence Court, housewife: Undoubtedly in this town — Patterson. I'd say Princeton was pretty much a Republican town. The Republicans always win. That's the way it seems to me.

Nancy David, 246 Nassau Street: I hope Alexander wins in a way, even though I am a Republican. I know it seems unfair to downgrade Patterson when I'm not familiar with his policies but I still would like to see Alexander win. Just for a change, if nothing else.

Mrs. Bert E. Myrick, 9 Princeton Avenue, housewife: I hope Patterson will win. I've always voted Republican and I don't expect to change now. But you never can tell. I think Patterson has done a good job as mayor but I would give anything to go back to the Princeton of the 20's. Then it was a nice, beautiful, small, little town.

Mrs. John Holladay, Edwards Place, housewife: I'd like to see Alexander win but I'm afraid Patterson will. The Republicans generally prevail in the Borough. Just from what he's said, I feel Alexander would give the public greater satisfaction.

Mrs. Margaret Pate, Lawrenceville, secretary to the assistant dean of the Graduate School: I can't vote and I know that the Republicans generally win but I would like to see Alexander win. Even though he is new in politics I think his background — his family political ties and his schooling make him a very attractive candidate.

MALVOLIO: "I'll be revenged on the pack of you," threatens David Byrd as Malvolio in McCarter's current repertory production of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night."

News Of The THEATRES

REPERTORY IN ACTION

Two Plays at McCarter. The first two plays presented by the McCarter Theatre repertory company are now in revolving action. They will be joined by a third, "Enrico IV" by Pirandello, on Friday, November 3.

"The Devil's Disciple" will play this Friday, November 10 and, for a final time, Saturday, December 30, all at 8:30.

"Twelfth Night" will be given this Thursday at 7:30 and this Friday; Saturday, November 25 and for a final time, Friday, December 22, all at 8:30.

COMING TO McCARTER

Song and Dance. Spanky and Our Gang are packed and ready to be in Alexander Hall this Friday at 8.

Subscriptions are on sale for the third annual dance series presently joined by the Princeton Ballet Society and McCarter Theatre. The series will get under way on Sunday, November 12 with the Princeton Regional Ballet and will continue with the Joffrey Ballet on February 4, the Royal Winnipeg company on February 18 and the Harkness Ballet on April 7.

Hallowe'en will be observed at McCarter with sex and violence: "Masculine Feminine" is the 8 p.m. film, from Jean-Luc Goddard.

'SEPARATE TABLES'

Players to Perform. Terence Rattigan's pair of plays about the inhabitants of a seedy English resort hotel, the duo known as "Separate Tables," will be given by the actors of Princeton Community Players November 16, 17 and 18.

The Players will move onto a new stage with this production — the stage and auditorium of John Witherspoon School on Walnut Lane. Curtain time will be the usual 8:30.

Don Evans has directed both halves of the play. In "Table by the Window," he has Lorin Zissman and Scotty Bloch as the estranged pair thrown together again after an eight year separation and a scandal.

In "Table Number Seven," Mr. Evans' principal actors are Trevor Owens as the fake "major" and Mary Jane Marta as the mother-dominated spinster.

Others in the cast are Marian Brooks, Irene Rosenberg, Thornton B. Pendfield, June Cawley, Barbara Herzberg, Lalor Cadley, David Rivinus, Chris Beck and Selika Conover.

Tickets are on sale at Male's Book Shop, and at the school on performance nights.

BLACK MASS SERVED

At Murray Theatre. Theatre Intime has celebrated Jean Genet's black festival of the weakness and perversion of the human race with reverence and erratic brilliance. "The Balcony" will continue at Murray Theatre Thursday through Saturday.

"The Grand Balcony" is Genet's world in microcosm, a bawdy house of illusion in which priests, judges and generals are masquerade roles for men vainly attempting to act out their personal fantasies and satisfy their sado-masochistic desires on bored but compliant servants.

Mme. Irma, who presides over the Grand Balcony, states the analogy in more familiar terms when she notes that the world is hell.

One of the most extravagantly theatrical works of the age, Genet's play is difficult to muff entirely, but almost impossible to perform with complete success. With its length, its huge cast and its monstrous technical demands, it is probably the most formidable assignment Intime has taken on.

Ritual, Not Reality. "The Balcony" draws its effect from the theatrical nature of human

IT'S NEW To Us

SOCIAL SECRETARY

For Weddings, Daoces . . . The infinite detail involved in any large, successful social function is a challenge and delight to many women. To others — and this is most of us — it is not only a dismay and chore, but an invitation to disaster because it's all so unfamiliar.

Here we come to the social secretary. The precise one we have in mind is Mrs. Georgia York, resident at Princeton for more than a decade, knowledgeable and poised about her profession and eager to help you plan a wedding so that it moves flawlessly and memorably or a dinner-dance so that it moves gaily and without a missed step.

You will turn to Mrs. York most often for weddings, with out a doubt, although she will "do" debutante parties, big luncheons, dinners, cocktail parties and teas. We say "big" — actually size is is not important. If your wedding is to be a modest one, she will be happy to take it on. If the cocktail party is to be small but perfect, she will do that, too.

For a wedding, she will order and address invitations, suggest the orchestra for the reception, order the flowers you have chosen (quite possibly with her suggestions in mind), see that the flowers arrive in time, take care of catering no matter how small or large you want the reception to be, arrange for people to handle parking, sign up the photographer, obtain a marquee.

At the rehearsal, she will line up bridesmaids for size and show them and ushers how to move down the aisle. Ushers will learn how to escort guests, best man and groom will learn when to come in . . . On the day of the wedding, you'll find that everything moves with unbelieveable smoothness.

Incidentally, Mrs. York knows the best shops for bridal gowns and bridesmaids dresses. And she is Princeton representative for Cartier, so you can be sure of impeccable invitations.

Another one of life's complex social events is the Bar Mitzvah, and Mrs. York hopes you will think of her when your son reaches that important event. Here again, she will see to the catering, order the liquor and the flowers and even organize the receiving line, all in closest collaboration with you, but freeing you of details you might forget.

If you're giving a party and you want entertainment, Mrs. York can provide folk singers, strolling guitar players, rock and roll bands.

Because she has lists of caterers and their specialties, knows where to get various kinds of orchestras and so on, she would be just the one to arrange a large social event for a club, or charity, perhaps a men's organization whose members are clumsy about such things.

You may reach Mrs. York at 924-0158, any time.

SIX-INCH MERINGUE

Lemon Please. Well, so it's only five and one-half inches. When's the last time you saw a lemon meringue pie that lofty? We couldn't even get one that size under our broiler. This airy confection is one of the stars these days at Renwick's. The restaurant on Nassau Street is proud as can be of a new, large and varied assortment of pastries, all of them baked right there in the shop, all of them baked fresh every day. And you know how fresh a lemon meringue can be!

If you stop in a 7 a.m. for breakfast, (but never on Monday) you'll be in time for the day's breakfast pastries, scarcely cool from the oven. Try a Danish with almonds and frosting, almost as wide across as that pie is high. Try Danish with toasted coconut. Try Danish with fruit.

Next morning, you might have a hot-shaped sticky bun encrusted with pecaos. Raised doughnuts? Frosted or dusted with sugar and wonderful with a black steaming coffee.

For afternoon tea, Renwick's suggests the old-fashioned classic English tea biscuit. It's about three inches across, made of a raised and yeasty dough and sweet with raisins inside. Pass the butter, please . . .

For a really festive tea, here are French pastries, cream puffs or eclairs. You may have puffs or eclairs filled with a light Bavarian creme or whipped cream, to your choice. Fresh strawberry shortcake comes in thick squares, framed with swirls of whipped cream.

And while we're licking all the whipped cream, let's look at the strawberry chiffon pie and the chocolate chiffon pie (that's shaved chocolate around the edges) and the blueberry cheese cake with the moist berries dark on top . . . Fresh fruit, in all.

If you order a cake for birthday or such, Renwick's will bake a fine one, from a recipe found in an 1883 cookbook that belonged with the original Renwick shop . . . all eggs and cream, as all the rest of the pastries are, by the way.

On the pie side, we find pumpkin because it's season and Boston creme because it's never out of season. Georgia pecan is a favorite to end a meal, too. Renwick's counts 15 kinds of pie.

Idle nibbling may be done on a five-inch chocolate chip cookie, so big it will take two small hands to hold it. Actually, some chocolate chip cookies are only four and three-quarter inches because they are dropped by hand, and therefore vary a bit in size. But not a whit smaller than four and three quarters!

You know, of course, that Renwick's is open on Sunday. How about some of that pastry for Sunday brunch?

SCOTCH ON RYE

Liquid Lunch. We're referring to the Whisky Sandwich at Princeton Gourmet — a couple of slices of white "bread" with Swiss cheese overlapping from inside and a hearty bite taken out of the middle.

Somebody took this bite out so that you can remove the bottle that's between the slices of bread, the bottle you've thoughtfully filled with something refreshing. Bread and cheese are made of foam rubber. The bottle, which holds about three ounces, is made of plastic and it really holds liquor. Comes in a sandwich bag. You provide the mustard.

Food for Serylcemee

Princeton Gourmet has a five-pound box of food you can buy "as is," and send to Vietnam or North Africa or wherever, by airmail. Five pounds is the airmail limit, as you know.

The box contains canned salami, salted peanuts, pumpernickel, a wheel of cheese wedges and "Twiglets," a cocktail nibble.

For sweet teeth, there are assorted macaroons from a company that makes petits fours, instant cocoa and jam. The neutral middle ground is provided by a box of Premier wafers.

"I Saw Wrinkles Vanish or Diminish in 2 Weeks"

NEW YORK (Special): "Disappearance of small wrinkles was accomplished . . . even the very deepest wrinkles showed very great improvement." This dramatic report on the ingredients in Genava was made by a noted physician, specializing in dermatology, after tests made on a selected group of women. He saw these results with his own eyes.

With this substance new to cosmetics, named Genava, aging skin can start looking younger and younger—not older and older.

The physician also commented, "The small superficial wrinkles responded dramatically." And he adds that the skin was "more translucent and smoother in appearance."

These results are nothing short of amazing. And it took a new cosmetic compound to do it.

Developed by the trustworthy Nina laboratory, Genava is designed to be used under make-up and as a night cream. It is absorbed instantly. In two weeks time wrinkles will vanish or diminish greatly. That is the promise now made possible by Genava. Skin will become more translucent, younger-looking. Now available in selected stores 1.65 oz. $3.50; 4 oz. $5.95.

experience. It takes places in a dramatic dimension somewhere between representation and reality, between theatre and life.

The actors on the stage portray actors acting roles with, in the play, and the audience never loses consciousness of the fact that what it watches is ritual, not reality. As with common types of religious ritual, the spectator is conscious of his role as an imaginative participant.

Robert Davis' direction recognizes this point. The bizarre technical effects and the exaggerated acting styles constantly call attention to the theatricality of the presentation.

One scene is bathed in bright red light, another in blue, a third in blinding white. A huge turntable revolves in view of the audience to change the cleverly designed sets.

Intent to Shock. Understandably but regrettably, however, Mr. Davis has subdued the quasi-pornographic extravagance of the early scenes, where Mme. Irma's clients attempt to realize their fantasies with the help of the girls of the Balcony. The fervor and agitation of the pretenders is dramatically contrasted with the bored compliance of the girls.

Slashing whips, writings and sexual gestures set the tone of these scenes, which are intended to shock. Only one of them — the shortest — is completely successful, however.

Eric Ordway, for instance, portrays the would-be general with as much skill as one could ever expect of a student portraying an old man, but the overall mood of the scene is one of a man telling tales to his grand-daughter rather than of a repressed dreamer ecting out his illusions.

These early scenes provide a context of horror in which the Mme. Irma's ironic remarks later should seem chilling rather than funny. Irma's presentation provokes more laughter than chills.

Mood Not Sustained. A broader problem of the production is that it fails to sustain completely the ritualistic mood throughout the various scenes with a consistant style. Part of this is due to the fact that Genet weakens the play with several intellectual discussions, which are irrelevant to the dramatic development. They are, like sermons at a black mass, superfluous to the ritual.

Besides director Davis and technical director Rick Hankins, major credit for the success of the production belongs to Anne Sheldon, whose performance as Mme. Irma approaches perfection.

She sets a perfect tone of coldness and efficiency, still managing to suggest the subtleties of personality which make the complexity of her relationships to the other characters understandable. The performance is beautifully sustained throughout the three hours of the play.

Sheila Sheffield as one of the girls and Greg Troll as the would be judge also contribute significantly to the success.

GARDEN and BRUNSWICK

My Sister, My Love (now playing). Another excursion into the human condition is presented in this Swedish film set in the 18th Century and concerned with incestuous love between a brother and sister.

Directed by Vilgot Sjoman, the film stars Bibi Anderson and Per Oscarsson, among Sweden's finest performers. The photography is excellent, in the tradition of Ingmar Bergman's films, with Sjoman ably capturing the starkness of life in a decadent aristocratic society. Sjoman, who wrote the screenplay, compares life among the privileged with that of the poor, brings in such weighty subjects as God, sin and punishment before and after death, and succeeds in creating an atmosphere heavy with misery.

The relations between the brother and sister seem almost pure when contrasted with the falseness exhibited by other members of their class. When the film opens, Oscarsson has returned from studies abroad to discover that his sister is about to marry a lord close to the king. They renew their love, but are unwilling to take the plunge and live openly together. Miss Anderson becomes pregnant, but eventually marries the lord (Jarl Kulle). The relationship between sister and brother is not completely severed, and as Kulle begins to awaken to the fact of an unwholesome love triangle, things come to a head.

The subject and the candor with which it is presented lim

PRINCE

The Saud Pebbles (now playing) is an extraordinary adventure-thriller, filled with drama, suspense, action and romance. Conflict exists not only on a political scale, but also on a personal level. Filmed in Taiwan, the color photography is superb.

It is 1926 and an explosive time in China as warlords battle for supremacy and patrol boats of many nations cruise the Yangtze to protect their merchants and missionaries. Machinist mate Steve McQueen is assigned to the American gunboat, "San Pablo." A loner, he is resented by his fellow "Sand Pebbles" the crew's name for themselves) especially when he tries to run the engine room in the fleet's manner. The rest of the ship is run by coolie labor and the other American sailors like it that way, figuring their job is to fight if needed.

Not only does the film cover a period of history rarely treated on the screen, it depicts the Nationalists, who were led by Chiang Kai-Shek, as brutal and bloodthirsty as are the Bolsheviks and the numerous warlords, all with their separate small armies.

As the political situation worsens and becomes a full-scale Chinese civil war, the San Pablo is ordered to evacuate Americans from the danger area. Rebels plant opium on the boat in an effort to discredit the Americans. The coolies disertion leaves the San Pablo in a state of seige. There is a long and action-filled sequence in which the gunboat rams through a barrier of chained junks in an effort to rescue a missionary, followed by a wild fight as the U.S. sailors are attacked by the Nationalists. There is a Chinese atrocity scene.

There are two love affairs: a romance between McQueen and Candice Bergen, cast as a young American teacher, and between his buddy, Richard Attenborough, and Marayat Andriane, the hostess of an Oriental joy palace.

McQueen is excellent as the volatile sailor-engineer who refuses to conform. His role is bolstered by all around him. The action-packed climax puts an appropriate cap on a film loaded with dramatic excitement. The movie is directed by Robert Wise, from a Robert Anderson script based on Richard McKenna's novel of the same title.

DANCERS TO PERFORM

In First Dance Recital. Dancers from the Princeton Regional Ballet Company will join with musicians of the Princeton Chamber Orchestra under Nicholas Harsanyi, to present on Sunday, November 12, the first in a series of four 1967-68 dance programs.

The series is being offered again this year under the sponsorship of McCarter Theatre, where the programs will be given, and the Princeton Ballet Society.

The Sunday afternoon program will begin at 3 p.m. It will consist of "Chanson Innocente," choreographed by Audree Estey and Joan Morton Lucas to music by Nathaniel Burt; a satirical work, "To Unfurl the Fan" and "Psalm: a song of Ascents," both choreographed by Lila Popper Bruner to music by Vivaldi and an excerpt from George Balanchine's "Pas de Deux." In the Balanchine, dancers will be Barbara Diamonto and Alexei Yudenich, of the Pennsylvania Ballet Company.

The Princeton Regional Ballet is composed of young dancers from central New Jersey who are admitted to the company through audition. The Princeton group is a member of the Northeast Regional Ballet Festival Association and the Association of American Dance Companies.

Tickets will be on sale at McCarter starting Monday.

PLAYHOUSE

Robbery (now playing) is a well-made example of the crime film school, photographed in color and packed with tension.

In the opening scenes, a daring hold-up is staged in daylight on the London streets with thieves posing as jewel carrier in his car, taking him away in a stolen ambulance and removing the gems from the satchel chained to his wrists. Played wordlessly for the most part, and building suspensefully as it goes along, the sequence gets this British-made thriller to a sizzling start.

It is all, of course, only a warm-up for a bolder and

MUSIC
In Princeton

PLEASING PERFORMANCE

In "Music from Marlboro."

The first in a new series of chamber music concerts took place last week in 10 McCosh Hall. The performers were members of the "Music From Marlboro" summer seminar and included Pina Carmirelli and John Toth, violins; Philippe Naegele and Caroline Levine, violas; and Fortunato Arico and Dorothy Reichenberger, 'cellists. The program consisted of the Quintet in F Minor, Op. 42 by Boccherini; the Sextet in A Major, Op. 42 by Dvorak; and the Brahms Sextet No. 2 in G, Op. 36.

As in past "Marlboro" performances, these six capable musicians played with great feeling, warmth, vigor and precision. Sometimes these traits caused a few problems in intonation, balance, dynamic shading and phrasing, but on the whole, their performances were pleasing and fairly convincing.

The music itself was of great interest, since each of the three compositions are in themselves masterpeces (with some minor weaknesses, perhaps, but works of great artistic merit nevertheless.)

The opening movement of the Boccherini is dark and rich in ideas and Miss Carmirelli's robust violin tone provided the dominant pleasure here. In the Dvorak Serenade, the gorgeous melodies, beautiful ensemble textures and unusual harmonic progressions (D Major to B Major, as a substitute for B Minor) all these moments were brilliantly executed by the ensemble with much of the praise going to the first 'cellist, Mr. Arico. His tone was big, broad and warm, something akin to David Soyer, the great 'cellist of the Guarnorn Quartet and an instructor at the Marlboro festival.

It was in the beautiful Brahms Sextet, that ensemble problems and questionable phrasing, coupled with Miss Carmirelli's lapses in intonation, caused some concern for this listener. This is a really lively early score of Brahms, yet it is full-blown structurally, and developed from the very opening bars to the end of the Finale.

The work soars in one continous line. In the DVorak, textures remain for the better part of a movement (lively as they may be), but Brahms is constantly inventing new ideas out of the old, changing the ensemble textures in a variety of ways and cleverly (if not always successfully) covering up the connecting seams so that one's attention for the glorious music is maintained throughout its 25-30 minute span.

Much credit for consistently fine playing must be given to the first violist, Mr. Naegele. Like his colleagues on first violin and 'cello, he too possessed a big tone, but unlike them his sense of balance, phrasing and tempo seemed more secure.

Mr. Arico seemed to chop up the long lines of the first movement into short motivic patterns, a questionable procedure since this trait tended to bring out the four-square metrical patterns that Brahms was trying so hard to avoid. However, the music survived these lapses because on the whole, these "Marlboro" musicians are basically excellent representatives of their profession and their genuine musicianship coupled with the noble music of the evening made for a most satisfying concert experience.

The capacity audience that attended the performance demonstrated that the increase in chamber music programs is more than justified. This can now truly be called, "Series III."

ALL-BACH PROGRAM: Ralph Kirkpatrick, harpsichordist, will play an all-Bach program in McCarter Theatre Monday, November 6.

STRING QUARTET COMING

To McCarter Theatre. The Juilliard String Quartet will be the initial offering of the Princeton University Concerts — Series II. The program, for which tickets are on sale at the McCarter box office, will be Monday at 8:30.

Featured artists of the well-known quartet will be Robert Mann and Earl Carlyss, violins, Raphael Hillyer, viola, Claus Adam, cello.

The quartet, formally associated with the Juilliard School of Music in New York City, has been named quartet-in-residence of the Library of Congress. The group includes in its repertoire some 135 works, many of them by American composers.

Monday's program will feature Haydn's Quartet in E flat, Opus 64, No. 6 and Schoenberg's Quartet No. 4, Opus 37. Also scheduled for presentation is Ravel's Quartet in F.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

For Kirkpatrick. Ralph Kirkpatrick, harpsichordist, has announced the program he will play in McCarter Theatre on Monday, November 6, his all Bach recital.

The program will include the Toccata in D Major, the Chromatic fantasy and Fugue, the Partita in C Minor and the "Italian" Concerto.

Tickets for the recital are now on sale at the McCarter box office.

FOLK FOR CHILDREN

Beers Family. All children are invited — upon presentation of a ticket, which may be bought at the McCarter box-office — to attend a Saturday morning folk concert by the Beers Family of singers and musicians.

The troupe will come to McCarter on Saturday, November 11 at 11 a.m. Tickets, at $2 and $2.50 are now on sale.

This concert will repeat the one given by the group in Philarhomic Hall in New York, and the New York Times said of it, "Enchanting!"

The Beers family draws its repertoire largely from the ballads of Scottish and Irish origin that were sung in the days of colonial Amrerica.

Why I Plan to Vote

REPUBLICAN

By John C. Sapoch, Jr.

I am going to vote for Republican Borough Candidates for many reasons. Primary among these are that they have proven experience: the ability to get the job done. I like men of action who can conceive of a program, listen to all the pros and cons, come to a decision and then carry through to completion. We are fortunate in the Borough to have three men of such experience running for office as a voluntary government.

Both Henry Patterson and Alan Carrick are completing their sixth year in office as Mayor and as member of Borough Council. In addition, Fred Peterson has had twelve years' experience as member of Borough Council and Mayor in Hopewell.

The Democrats are offering in contrast and in competition three men with no experience in Borough government. I have observed the Democratic candidate for Mayor in action and, in fact, have compounded him personally on the vigor with which he is campaigning. However, enthusiasm and an awareness of community problems by an individual cannot effectively replace an experienced team that has demonstrated by action and accomplishment over a period of many years that they are not only aware of the problems but that they can rally the support of both public and private resources to develop sound solutions to the problems.

The bulk of programs proposed by the Democrats have either already been done by the incumbent administration or have been postponed or rejected because of their high costs to the taxpayer. Yet, the Democrats complain that the tax rate is too high. We can have either low taxes or bold progressive programs — not both simultaneously.

As a tax payer I am willing to absorb my share of the additional cost of important community programs, but I do expect enthusiastic problem solving to be tempered by sound fiscal management. I think that it is significant that the Republican candidate for Tax Collector, Christine St. John, has stated that with a salary of $2400 the Tax Collector is overpaid for the duties involved.

In a community that prides itself in volunteer government, such a positive attitude deserves commendation. I will vote for Mrs. St. John.

I am particularly interested in the youth of the community and the problems they face and, occasionally, the problems they create. I believe that Henry Patterson in his administration, working with the Borough Council and many other interested citizens and private community groups has made outstanding progress in a complex area.

He has not sat in Borough Hall waiting for the young people or their parents to come to him. He has gone out to see them in their homes, in recreation areas, at high school dances, wherever he has felt he would gain more understanding. He has consulted with both professional youth workers and volunteers. As a result, we can all point with pride to these accomplishments in the last six years:

1. Community park with its swimming pools, tennis courts and athletic fields;

2. The new joint Public Library with its expanded facilities for youth and, indeed, for all ages;

3. The Open Space program with the Township to insure the future availability of space for recreation;

4. The continuation and expansion of the small, local

DEMOCRATIC

By Dr. Leonard Berry

Princeton needs imaginative, vigorous leadership; leadership that will respond to the needs of Borough residents and the challenges of the present and future. I am firmly convinced that the Democratic team of Archibald S. Alexander Jr. for Mayor, James Andrews and Wilbert Brooks for Council and Marie Coan for Tax Collector will provide that leadership; leadership that is sorely lacking at present.

Princeton needs direction in the critical areas of housing, youth, zoning, traffic, planning and taxation. The present administration has no direction. It has acted only when pushed and prodded.

The Democratic team has direction. With Archie Alexander taking the lead, the team has brilliantly articulated these issues in the present campaign.

Unlike their opponents, they have brought up the issues and have debated them. Unlike their opponents, they have not equivocated. We know where they stand. And they stand for progressive leadership.

Princeton needs administrative expertise. The problems of government, even local government such as the Borough, are becoming more and more complex every day. The Democratic team has that expertise.

Archie Alexander has a brilliant record as an attorney, specializing in zoning matters. He has served with distinction on state government bodies.

He has involved himself in local issues and undertakings. He has a wealth of public service experience.

But more important than long resumes, I am impressed and convinced of Archie Alexander's commitment to Princeton and his concern for its future. He will not hesitate to go out and identify the problems of our community; not hide from view like the present mayor, if indeed the present mayor even recognizes that problems exist. I know that Archie Alexander will be the type of mayor to face the issues and debate them.

Princeton needs a mayor who is accessible to all people and groups. Princeton needs a mayor it can talk to. Archie Alexander will be that type of mayor.

Princeton needs council members in touch with the residents; council members who can truly represent the people and not be afraid of debating the issues in public. Princeton needs a democratic council, and I stress the word "d", not one, as under the present mayor, that retreats to the back room to make decisions, when the few occasions arise that it has to make a decision.

I am convinced that Wilbert Brooks and James Andrews will provide the open, honest representation that our Council needs. Both are deeply involved in community affairs. Both are in touch with the people. Both have a wealth of civic experience that will make them invaluable to the Council.

Princeton needs the experience of Marie Coan in the important position of tax collector. She has served well.

It would be wonderful if we did not need a tax collector, but, alas, there are taxes to be collected and so we do. The job Marie Coan has done is the best recommendation I can offer for her re-election. She has served well, and deserves our vote of thanks November 7th.

Princeton needs a committed, concerned administration: an administration that can re-

It's the Great Pumpkin, Charlie Brown

by Charles M. Schulz

Linus persuades Charlie Brown's sister Sally to sit with him in the pumpkin patch on Halloween night and wait for the Great Pumpkin's appearance. Linus convinces Sally that to see the Great Pumpkin is worth sacrificing that evening of trick or treat. Meanwhile Lucy, Violet, Charlie Brown and Snoopy in goggles, prepare for their party. Linus' letter to the Great Pumpkin sets the scene for another delightful Schulz adventure.

more ambitious crime: the robbing of a British mail train of millions of dollars in cash. Presented as fiction, the story is told in a quasi-documentary style, re-calling the train theft that took place in England a few years back.

YOU, TOO, CAN DANCE

Folk Lessons Planned. Twelve lessons in English Country Dance will be offered this fall starting Thursday, November 16 by the Princeton Ballet Society.

Classes will be held at the Society's studio on Alexander Street and reservations may be made by calling 921-7758 between 10 and noon and 2 p.m. and 5 p.m., or 201-297 9040 evenings. The Society suggests that dancers enroll as couples.

Sessions will be held on Thursday evenings, and will run from 8:15 to 10 p.m. Joseph Simko of the Country Dance Society of America will teach.

Mr. Simko has planned a curriculum of traditional, "Playford" and "Applied" dance forms, and he may offer Morris dancing and "Elengen Rary Sword," as well.

The classes are primarily for beginners of all ages, but anyone with country dance experience will be welcome.

PLAY SET FOR PUPILS

In West Windsor. The classic children's story, "Jack and the Beanstalk," will be staged at the Maurice Hawk School Saturday at 1 and 3 by the Nicolo Marionettes.

The Nicolo troupe is being sponsored in its unique dramatization of the tale by the West Windsor Parent-Teacher Organization. A live "giant" will be a featured stage offering.

Tickets for the show cost 50 cents for children and $1 for adults. They can be purchased at the Hawk school cafeteria this week and at the door on the afternoon of the performance.

Music In Princeton

Instruments besides the voice include such half forgotten devices as the duclimer, psaltery, fiddlesticks, limber jacks. And fiddle.

AUDITIONS SCHEDULED

By Opera Association. Fall auditions will be held by the Princeton Opera Association Saturday in the campus center auditorium of the Theological Seminary.

Several positions are open as the association's plans include performances at the State Cultural Theater in Trenton and the Present Day Club color, in addition to future productions of Hansel and Gretel, La Traviata and numerous scenes from other operas.

ROBBERY: with Stanley Baker as co-producer and the hood who plots the train theft, is now at the Playhouse.

All those interested in auditioning should call Mrs. Frank Schley, 924 2148, to arrange a time, and should be prepared to sing at least one operatic aria and preferably two.

DIRECTOR SELECTED

By Princeton Choral Group. James Palmer, assistant music professor at Trenton State College, has been chosen director of the Princeton Choral Group. He succeeds J. Beau Lackey of the Hopewell-Pennington Road who recently resigned from the post two years after organizing the YMCA singing group.

Mr. Palmer holds a masters degree in music from the University of Colorado. His professional career has included conducting school and church choral groups and also appearances in several civic opera groups.

Men and women interested in joining the Choral Group are urged to contact the central office of the Princeton YMCA. The Group meets weekly on Tuesdays at 7:30.

It's New To Us

side, Gourmet is showing some remarkably handsome stoneware from the Danish firm. It's highly informal and marvellous for a modern table. The background is a misty grey, and the pattern — if you can call it that — consists of the freckles made by iron that emerges in the firing process.

In some pieces — chop plates, and the like — the iron has been blown on with a touch in an ancient geometry which combines the contemp and the old in one net work of line.

The stoneware — it's called "Mist" — comes also in a steely blue, but don't ask us how they get the iron that color. Maybe it's cobalt?

Danish's fondue set comes from Denmark by way of Switzerland. It has a sturdy cast iron stove that will remind you of the Dansk candlesticks of a few years back. Feet are teak, and the burner burns Sterno. The casserole is a deep royal blue and its lid has the characteristic crossbar handle of Dansk ware.

Continuing in a northerly direction, we come to Finland. Here we buy a molded glass bowl and matching highball glasses. The molding may remind you of old south Jersey pressed glass, but you'll see at a second glance that the patterns are freer and gayer — amusing trees and ferns and things. Comes in the glass kind of glass, and in royal blue.

Arzberg has a new pattern, "Avante," it is white like the old, but the plate has a shoulder and the cups have straighter sides! Nice.

The Germans have also sent to Gourmet a great big grey crock with a lot of blue German words on it. Roughly translated, they say you should keep filling the crock with fresh fruits as they ripen during the season, adding splashes of cognac at frequent intervals. Then, standing well back, late in the autumn, you serve what's in the crock, with meats and such. How to get tipsy on pork roast.

Our cook was wearing an orange and black vinyl apron last time we saw her pouring cognac over the pears, and we haven't seen her since. Odd, too, because the apron is brilliant orange with black bullseye pockets right in the middle.

We like the aprons with Beefeater, Cutty Sark and Budweiser labels on the front. You may reach for the heavy poplin aprons with flowers; a great big daisy, a zinnia, or a poppy, on very dark olive background with mitt to match.

FINDS NEW CAREER

At Army Hospital. Mrs. Jean Bishop, 255 Russell Road, is an artist and musician and the mother of four girls. She says that she may have found a new career.

As an American Red Cross volunteer, she has been devoting one day each week to entertaining patients at the Walson Army Hospital, Fort Dix, many of them Vietnam veterans. "I began work this past summer and found it so rewarding that I decided to continue my volunteer service," she said. "It may be a new career for me."

It is chiefly as an artist that is earning Mrs. Bishop a reputation around the nine-story Hospital. In her visits to the ward, she carries a pencil and sketch pad. When an interesting subject appears or when a patient permits her to sketch him, the pencil immediately goes to work.

It takes her about 15 minutes to do a sketch. However, she adds, "It takes a little longer when we start talking." Her work is described by the patients as being "very good." Many soldiers either send their sketch home or keep it.

"I think the men fighting for us today are just wonderful. I hope in some small way," says Mrs. Bishop, "I am telling each one of them 'Thank You'."

A native of Richmond, Va., Mrs. Bishop received her art training at the Maryland Institute in Baltimore. She originally enrolled to become a fashion illustrator.

After working at several illustrating jobs, she left her career to marry Princeton engineer George Bishop. Mrs. Bishop reported she had been doing some oil paintings and sketches of friends during the past years and was urged to extend her art work by becoming a Red Cross volunteer.

Her musical talents are both vocal and instrumental. She said that she plans to limit her musical entertaining to playing the piano, however.

JOINT MEETING SET

By Jewish Groups. The Men's Club of the Princeton Jewish Center and the Princeton Chapter of Hadassah have scheduled a joint meeting for Sunday at 8 in the Jewish Center.

Jacob Talmon, professor of history at the Hebrew University, will be guest speaker. He is currently in Princeton as a guest of the Institute for Advanced Study.

In a lecture titled "Understanding Israel's Position in the Middle East," Professor Talmon will discuss such problems besetting Israel as the refugees and economic development. A question and answer period will follow the lecture.

EXHIBIT TO OPEN

At Bainbridge House. The Historical Society of Princeton will hold a formal opening for its new display "One Hundred Years of Princeton" this Sunday. The exhibit, photographs of Princeton as it existed over the last century, will run until November 29.

The formal opening will run from 2 to 5. Mrs. Robert Greiff and Miss Elizabeth Menzies will be on hand to autograph their book, "Princeton Architecture," just published by the Princeton University Press.

Also on the Historical Society's agenda is a lecture by Nathaniel Burt, president of the Society. His topic will be "The Literary Tradition of Princeton."

The lecture is set for 8:30 on Wednesday, November 15, in the Woodrow Wilson School on Washington Road. Mr. Burt, both historian and poet, has also written a novel, "The Perennial Philadelphians."

LEGION ASKS NAMES

Of Men in Service. Princeton area residents are asked to send the name, rank, serial number and address of relatives in the armed forces to Hopewell Valley American Legion Post 339. The servicemen will then be eligible to receive paperback books from the Post.

The Post has over 1,000 pocket editions that can be sent to servicemen anywhere in the world. Names of servicemen should be sent to John Piggott, View Point Drive, Hopewell.

MAILERS REMINDED

Of Approaching Holiday. John L. Dilworth, Princeton Postmaster, has announced that the Post Office will operate on its holiday schedule on Saturday, November 11, Veterans Day.

No city or rural deliveries will be made although incoming mail will be distributed to post office boxes in the main office. The office will remain open for the convenience of box holders, but no service windows will be in operation. Special delivery mail will be handled as usual. Pick-ups will be made at all collection points in accordance with holiday schedules.

IN SOME SMALL WAY, "THANK YOU." Mrs. Jean Bishop 255 Russell Road, is an American Red Cross Volunteer and artist who sketches casualties of the Vietnam war at Walson Army Hospital, Ft. Dix. Here she sketches 15-year-old Leon A. Burmylo of Camden. Says Mrs. Bishop, "I just hope in some small way, I am telling each one if them, 'Thank You.'"

6. The appointment of a full time juvenile officer to establish better rapport between youth and the borough authorities;

spond to the people, working with them as well as for them. The Democratic team of Alexander, Andrews, Brooks and Coan offers us that type of administration.

Their roots are deep in our community, as is their concern. We are indeed fortunate to have the opportunity to elect them. Princeton needs them.

I urge you to cast your vote for imagination, vigor, expertise and concern. I urge you to vote Alexander, Andrews, Brooks and Coan.

WE DO!

PRINCETON SHOPPING CENTER: Three Princeton teenagers escaped death or serious injury near this spot recently when their speeding sports car flipped over as it turned around an island to the left of Bamberger's store, trapping the youths underneath.

"They were awfully lucky!" a Township policeman said. "They were drenched with gasoline. If any of them had been smoking, we would have had fried chicken. Everyone has one close call in his life; they've had theirs already . . ."

The young driver said he was going about 45 miles an hour and couldn't control the car. The speed limit is 15.

Township police are powerless to enforce the speed limit, in spite of constant complaints, because the Shopping Center is private property. "I'd like to see us in charge of moving violations there," Chief James B. Campbell Jr. says. He favors a study by a traffic engineer for the best and safest flow at the Shopping Center. "You'd need tons of yellow lines . . ."

The Shopping Center, he adds, would first have to petition the State Motor Vehicle Department, saying that police control of traffic is needed and wanted. The request would then be referred to the Princeton Township Committee. This pattern was followed by Lawrence Township which recently passed an ordinance placing the Lawrence Shopping Center under control of the Lawrence police. It should be followed here.

You can expect the unexpected when you're driving at the Shopping Center. Take care. We care!

MATCH WITS

The average score among National Safety Council employees was 8 out of 10 on this quiz. What's yours?

1. You enter an expressway and find that traffic is traveling at a faster pace than you prefer to go. You should:

a. Set your own pace and keep to the outside lane so that other cars can pass you easily.

b. Keep up with the flow of traffic even though it's faster than you like to go.

c. Slow down and move to the inside lane.

2. If you burn your finger on a hot skillet, the best thing to do for it would be:

a. Immerse it in cold water.

b. Immerse it in lukewarm water.

c. Smear cold grease on it.

3. If you cut your hand, a good thing to do to prevent infection would be to suck the cut. True or False?

4. Carrying a dampened sponge in your car will protect you from the dangers of carbon monoxide. True or False?

5. If you plan to use a ladder for spring house cleaning or repair jobs, keep in mind that you should face the ladder both when climbing it and when coming down. True or False?

6. A flammable material or substance is one that will burn. True or False?

7. The driver of an oncoming car fails to dim his lights. You should:

a. Alternately switch your lights from high to low beam.

b. Flick your lights to high beam as a reminder, then back to low beam and watch the right side of the road as a guide.

c. Keep your lights on high beam and watch the right side of the road.

8. When you're driving in falling snow your lights should be on:

a. High beam.

b. Low beam.

9. It's safer to have your battery-operated transistor radio on a table right next to the tub while you're bathing. True or False?

10. The traffic sign shaped like an upside-down triangle means:

a. Yield the right of way.

b. School crossing ahead

c. Construction ahead.

WHERE ARE YOUR KEYS?

A Princeton boy worked hard one summer and bought his first car. He put all of his savings into it. After school started that fall, he lost the part-time job he'd counted on, and ran out of funds to keep his car running. So he took to syphoning gas — until he was caught.

Groceries, packages, valuable are stolen from cars in the parking lots at the shopping centers in Princeton, Pennington, Hightstown, at the University. Cars are stolen and abandoned.

Car theft is called "a crime of opportunity." This includes items stolen from your car and gas syphoned from your tank. It happens all of the time. The opportunity is irresistible, often to some youth who finds your car unlocked, or better yet, finds your keys in the car.

If you've left your keys in the ignition, you've made it easy. The professional car thief knows that people often leave their keys tucked above the sun visor, or under the driver's seat.

In 1966, 8 out of 10 cars stolen, were unlocked. Four out of 10 cars stolen had the keys in the ignition. Five out of 10 cars stolen were taken by youngsters under 18 years old.

When you park:

Remove your ignition key.

Lock all valuables in the trunk.

Fasten all windows.

Lock all doors.

If you are careless, you may end up carless. And another youngster may have plunged into deep trouble.

BASIC BIKE RULES

1. Keep to the right side of the road.
2. No passengers allowed.
3. Traffic signs and laws apply equally to bike riders and motorists.
4. Ride single file.
5. Stop, look and listen at intersections.
6. Walk your bike on Nassau Street sidewalk.
7. Wear white at night and equip your bike with a reflector that can be seen from 300 feet. Your headlight must be visible from 500 feet.
8. Give right-of-way to pedestrians, cars and trucks.
9. Use hand signals for right turn, left turn and stop.
10. Dismount and walk across heavy traffic.

ANSWERS TO MATCH WITS

1. (b) The majority sets the pace on superhighways. That's the safe speed, even though it's faster or slower than you'd like.

2. (a) Cold water, preferably ice water, takes away the pain and produces faster healing.

3. False. Your mouth can spread germs to a wound.

4. False. Water does not absorb carbon monoxide appreciably.

5. True.

6. True. The term inflammable is often used and means the same thing.

7. (b) With your lights on low beam, at least the other driver will be able to see, and this may prevent an accident.

8. (b) Falling snow reflects headlight glare, so low beam is best.

9. True. Voltage is not enough to cause harm should the radio fall into the water — assuming of course that the radio is NOT plugged into house current as some transistors can be.

10. (a) Yield the right of way

ART

ORTMAN ON VIEW

At Princeton Art Museum. Of six major exhibitions on schedule for the University Art Museum this year, the first is a showing of drawings, paintings and constructions by George Ortman who is in his second year as Resident Artist in the Creative Arts Program of Princeton University. Whereas some of his work has been seen here previously and his mural commission for the Unitarian Church of Princeton has been completed, this is a first and comprehensive one man show which includes his painting "Of Many Tongues," the most recent of a series of "imitations" based on famous paintings by Botticelli, Matisse, Gauguin and Uccello.

Mr. Ortman, a native of California, studied at the California College of Arts and Crafts, at the Atelier 17 with S.W. Hayter and at the Hans Hofmann School of Fine Arts in New York, and in Paris at Atelier André Lhote. He taught at the School of Visual Arts in New York from 1957-63, New York University from 1963-65 and took part in the International Seminar at Fairleigh Dickinson University the summer of 1962.

He came to Princeton in 1966 after using a Guggenheim Fellowship in the study of Uccello in Italy, 1955-56. Among other honors received are a Ford Foundation Grant in 66, Best of Show Prize, "Religion in Art," from the Birmingham Museum of Art and the Governor's Purchase Award, Artists From New Jersey, 1967.

"Imitation." In the catalogue for the Princeton show is an appreciation written by George Ortman for the Guggenheim Foundation for making possible his study of the works of Uccello in Italy. The development from this intensive study, so important to him are shared with the viewer through drawings and preliminary sketches which work in to the final lunette-shaped mural called "Of Many Tongues."

It is easy to see why Ortman is attracted to Uccello whose concern for structure and composition were so vital to his work in the 15th century. Today, Ortman has borrowed the basic structure from Uccello's "The Flood" and then has drawn into it his own figures to translate his 20th century interpretation of disaster, "man's injustice to man," based on the Watts revolution.

Working Drawings. The working drawings for all his art are extremely interesting. Only bits and pieces of a larger composition, these often, in themselves, complete designs and full of character. In the first stage his drawing is sure and facile, realistic. This is then broken down into geometric shapes and symbols which finally fit into a strict composition. For his "imitation" it appears that he has reversed the process, working from basic construction towards form and painting where we found less interest in technique and color than in terest of idea.

Constructions. The most vivid exhibits are the constructions which are tightly designed puzzle-patterns in aluminum and canvas-covered wood painted in pure color. Accompanying many of these are the various stages of development so that the whole creative and intellectual process is quite understood, with the symbol concept paramount. One construction called "Landmark" completes the lesson by showing both sides, its back a mass of pieces, nuts and bolts and more of a puzzle than the front.

As a summer resident of Maine, Mr. Ortman has doubtless been impressed by the various lighthouses which stud that rugged coast, and it is his rendition of "Lighthouse" which evokes in us all that we think he meant his symbols to convey. Made of a soft, silky aluminum with a simple sheer of line and jutting rectangles which catch the light, "Lighthouse" gives an illusion of its working purpose with beams thrust out to sea.

The exhibition will continue through November 26 and the Museum is open to the public Tuesday through Saturday from 10 to 4 and on Sunday from 2 to 4:00. The Museum is closed on Mondays and major holidays.

ART SHOW PLANNED

At McCarter Theatre. Twelve centuries of Southeast Asian art will be featured at a show opening Thursday, November 2, at McCarter Theatre.

The show, "Arts and Patterns of Southeast Asia," is sponsored by the Princeton Art Association in conjunction with the Adult School's lecture series on the arts and culture of Southeast Asia.

Assembled by Gillette Griffin, Curator of pre Columbian and primitive art, and Mrs. Backlin Landman, executive assistant and curator of American and decorative art, both of Princeton University, the show will include materials from the seventh century to the present. Works of art and crafts from Cambodia, Indonesia, Thailand and Borneo will be on view.

A champagne preview for PAA members and the public will be held from 6 to 8 on opening night. Prof. Sculyer van R. Cammann, art historian at the University of Pennsylvania, speaking at the Adult School that evening, will attend the preview. The show will continue through Saturday, December 2.

Lending art works are Mrs. Robert Winters, Mrs. Jeanette Mirsky, Mrs. John Bangs, Mr. and Mrs. William Lockwood, Mr. and Mrs. Datus Smith, Mr. and Mrs. David Landman, Mr. Griffin, Mrs. Jeannette Atkins and Mrs. Eugene Gillespie.

DEMONSTRATION SET

At Queenstown Gallery. An art lecture and demonstration on sculpture and ceramics will be given at 8 p.m. this Friday by Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lehman of the Trenton State College at the Queenstown Shop Gallery, 43 S. Main Street, Pennington.

Queenstown is sponsoring the lecture-demonstrations by various artists on the fourth Friday of each month, with the exception of December.

HOT POTATO: Princeton and Colgate players treated the football Saturday as if it singed anyone trying to hold it, fumbling a total of 14 times. Here, ball has hopped out of arms of vistors' halfback Marv Hubbard (2 of his number 24 showing). BACK TO IVY ACTION

Penn First of Five Foes. The first of five football games which will determine Princeton's chances for a first-division finish in the Ivy League will take place Saturday against Pennsylvania. The Palmer Stadium kickoff is set for 1:30 p.m.

Expectations are that the Tigers will continue their mastery over the Red and Blue, adding to a string which has seen them come out on top each year since the current decade began. Penn's lone hope for an upset would seem to lie in the fact that its principal strength is the passing of quarterback Bill Creeden and that one of the problems Princeton is seeking to solve is the inexperience of its sophomore - dominated defensive secondary.

Only once in the last seven years has the outcome been close — the 9-3 triumph the Tigers recorded in 1961. From 1963 through last fall, they scored a total of 170 consecutive points against the Quakers before the losers' long scoring drought ended with a pair of fourth-quarter touchdowns on Franklin Field. The final tally last October was 30 to 13.

QUICK LOOK AT PENN

OFFENSE: Entire 1966 backfield has returned intact. Quarterback Bill Creeden, a fine passer ranked 9th nationally last year in total offense.

DEFENSE: Almost invariably in trouble, lacking size, depth and, in secondary, experience.

CHIEF ASSET: Creeden's passing and willingness to gamble in hopes of major upset.

CHIEF PROBLEM: Long-standing defensive weaknesses have kept Quakers from beating a first-division Ivy team for past four seasons.

TYPE OF OFFENSE: I formation with split ends.

Such a one-sided rivalry tends to hang an aura of defeatism around a team, and Penn can hardly expect to come into the Stadium Saturday with the belief that it can successfully exploit the various weaknesses Princeton's young squad has shown this year. If the Tigers' defensive line cannot put adequate pressure on Creeden, a high-scoring contest may result but the visitors do not appear to have the ability to contain the balanced offense paced by tailback Bob Weber.

Creeden a Standout. If professional scouts can accurately forecast Creeden's passing ability behind adequate protection, he may be among the first quarterbacks drafted when the NFL and AFL selections are made next winter. Emlen Tunnell, of the New York Giants says flatly that he saw no better collegiate passer during the 1966 season than the Penn star.

In his first two varsity seasons, Creeden has set 17 new records at Pennsylvania, already holds several in the Ivy League and has a good chance of erasing all three held by Columbia's Archie Roberts, career marks for yards gained passing, passes completed and passes attempted. He is a rollout artist who occasionally runs with the ball and keeps the defense off balance.

Operating with Creeden in the backfield are the other three 1966 starters. Cabot Knowlton, a 177-lb. halfback, was the leading runner last year with a 4.9 average. The other pair are George Burrell and Gerald Santini, the latter executing a 64 yard touchdown

Anyone for Football? These Guys Were

Nearly a score of Princeton football players who were on the roster when the squad reported for pre-season training have been lost for the season through injuries. With a position switch here and there, you could make a pretty good team out of those lost to Dick Colman and his coaching staff.

The ends were hardest hit. Among them were Bob Porter, shelved by a shoulder injury; Ron Prusek, benched with cartilege trouble in his knee; Dick Lombardi, whose career was ended by a groin injury; and a promising sophomore, 6-4, 215-lb. Tom Hutchinson, who started the Rutgers game on defense and left for the year with a twisted knee sustained in the first period. A neck injury removed junior Tim Gill from the roster.

Two big tackles, both lettermen, both probable starters, never saw action because they had not fully recovered from injuries incurred a year ago. They are 230-lb. Homer Ashby, who underwent surgery to repair ligaments in his knee, and 216-lb. Bob Hausleiter, ruled medically ineligible because of a nerve injury in his neck.

A 210-lb. sophomore guard who was counted on and is now watching from the sidelines is Dick Weikel. Classmate Arnie Holtberg, slated for heavy duty as a linebacker, is out for the year with knee trouble.

A ready-made backfield plus several replacements has also been lost. Quarterback Doug Foy is out for the year with mononeucleosis, and senior Bob Schoene, sidelined with a knee injury since the Cornell game, was scheduled to learn this week whether he could play again this fall. A third quarterback, sophomore Terry Burgler, fractured his wrist.

Fullback Jaromir Babicka is through, as are tailback Fred Wiechec, last year's ranking freshman at that position, and wingback Mike Sena. Convert one of the numerous linemen to center and another to guard, and you've got a good football team on paper — where none of them can play.

against the Tigers a year ago. Once the virtues of this quartet have been set forth, however, not much in the way of standout material remains for review. The offensive line is lighter than most of its opponents field; what experience there is on defense is up front. It was this platoon which lost a 21-7 lead to Bucknell last week, the Bisons winning, 28-27, on the strength of three second half touchdowns and a total offense of 357 yards against the beleaguered Quakers. Penn has also lost to Dartmouth, 23-0, and has defeated Brown and Lehigh.

Colgate Routed, 28-0. If a team has ever lost the ball on six fumbles and two interceptions in a Palmer Stadium game, no one can recall when such a performance was last staged here. That was Colgate's contribution to Princeton's resurgence Saturday, the Tigers taking advantage of the visitors' frequent errors to score four times while blanking the losers.

Two of the fumbles occurred inside the five-yard line. The first of these came on the second half kickoff, directly traceable to a driving tackle by sophomore Ron Miles, and produced a Princeton TD with just 48 seconds gone on the clock. The second took place on the Tigers' four midway through the third quarter and when sophomore Pete Lips fell on it, the visitors' only serious scoring bid ended.

Princeton put three touchdowns on the board in the opening half, each of them credited to Bob Weber. All were from a yard or two out, climaxing drives of 63, 34 and 50 yards.

Although the Tigers ran well —259 yards in all—the blocking left something to be desired and they had to carve out their gains in small chunks against an opponent which was losing its fifth game in a row. The offense is still rebuilding: quarterback Dan White, a sophomore, was the first member of his class to start a game since John Henrich began his career in 1960. He'll be there a while—senior Bob Schoene's twisted knee may bench him for several more games.

The contest was so one-sided that Princeton's lone major problem after the game was ability to evaluate its performance. In effect, has it made major strides toward playing far better football than it did against Cornell, or was winless Colgate so demoralized that it merely made the opposition look good by comparison? It will take the Penn game this weekend to spell out some of the answers.

Here and there, certain aspects of the unfolding action needed no further analysis. Displaying top form as a pass receiver after a long layoff because of a severe muscle pull was end Steve Pierce, who caught four of Weber's tosses in the first half as he started his first game this season. With junior Mike Garton (who grabbed three and raised his season's total to 17), he will give the Tigers a major aerial threat in the second half of the season.

Welcome, too, was the second half performance of sophomore tailback Scott MacBean, who ran well and completed both passes he tried. His potential was particularly heartening in view of the continuing problems that plague Rich Bracken in the tailback slot. Slowed throughout the preseason training period by a fractured finger, Bracken is nowhere near the form he displayed while starting all nine games last season as a sophomore. He is not running with authority, has completed only four of a dozen passes and tends to throw behind his receivers.

Another key player who is behind his potential because of an injury is sophomore fullback Ellis Moore. The achilles tendon he pulled early in the Rutgers game has kept him from starting since, and at no time has he run with the power he showed on opening day. Meanwhile, junior Don Hazen has taken over very satisfactorily after spending last season with the jayvees.

It will apparently be on Weber's picturesque running and passing, particularly the latter, that much of Princeton's fortunes for the 1967 season will hang. While numerous Princeton backs have scored three times in a game, few have done so in a single half as he did on Saturday.

His passing accuracy so far this year is among the best in the nation — 28 out of 40 for .700, a figure that at the halfway mark exceeds Dick Kazmaier's Princeton record of .626 set in his senior year. Weber has scored six TD's and passed for three others, balance that will give the Tigers a good shot at victory in any of their last five games if the defense can improve from week to week.

AWARDS TO BE GIVEN

By Football Foundation. Asa Bushnell, 71 Palmer Square, will be singled out for recognition at the approaching banquet of the Delaware Valley chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame. Mr. Bushnell is commissioner of the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference.

Leroy Smith, former football official in the Trenton School System will also be honored at the November 13 banquet in the Nassau Inn. He will receive the Contribution to Amateur Football Award.

Mr. Bushnell will be presented with the chapter's Distinguished American Award. Commissioner of the ECAC for the past 30 years, he has also served as Princeton University's graduate manager of athletics. He is a member of the executive committee of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

Reservations for the dinner can be made by contacting Fred Schluter, 111 Fairway Drive, at 921-2523. Wives are welcome to attend the affair.

PHS CAN PROVE ITSELF

East Brunswick the Test. Winner of its last two games by a combined 88 to 7 margin, the Princeton High School football team (4-1) gets the opportunity this week to prove that it is capable of more than knocking off the weak sisters in the area.

Saturday morning at 11, East Brunswick High School will invade the Little Tigers' lair here and the Bears are the last remaining team of any backbone that PHS will meet this fall. If PHS fails to win this one, it must bear, and justly, the onus of not being able to win the big ones. Should it win, the Blue and White's prestige will skyrocket for East Brunswick comes to town with the distinction of having upset last week the second-ranked team in the state — Perth Amboy — 18-13.

Perth Amboy, of course, is the owner of the lone victory over the Little Tigers this season, a 21-0 triumph engineered by its outstanding junior quarterback, Brian Taylor. Although it was not a sectional contest, PHS coach Dick Wood reported afterwards that he was disappointed in the outcome because he had wanted to prove that Princeton High was capable of defeating schools in the north-central area where there is a greater emphasis on winning, perhaps, and where, generally, the teams are stronger than they are here.

Now, Wood gets a second and last chance. This will be the first meeting between East Brunswick and PHS. Like the Little Tigers, the Bears are 4-1.

Before the start of the season, Wood predicted that Perth Amboy and East Brunswick would be the two strongest teams his squad would meet during the season. Barring a complete reverse in form, the Blue and White should close out the present campaign with wins over Steinert, Notre Dame and Madison. So, only East Brunswick stands in the way of a possible 8-1 record, which would be the best ever under Wood.

TAYLOR FOR SIX: Co-captain Tom "Buzz" Taylor falls across the goal line for Princeton High School's fourth touchdown against Colonia Saturday with 7:24 remaining in the third quarter. Buzz scored off tackle from 12 yards out for second TD of the season. PHS won, 38-0. (Staff Photo)

Sports In Princeton

Princeton's game with Colonia here Saturday got an eyeful. PHS scored twice on textbook passes from Bill Walstad to Huston Webber to take a 14-0 lead. From then on, PHS continued to outplay the big but punchless Patriots in every department of the game. The final score was 38 to 0.

"I'd have to say this was our best game of the season," said Wood afterwards. "If we can play like this against East Brunswick, we'll do all right."

True, Colonia never pressed the home team, but unlike the Trenton game the week before, which PHS won 50-7, the Little Tigers didn't make mistakes. It had three backs throwing the ball, Thom Yoder, Nick Arcaro and Walstad, who, in addition to his pair to Webber, connected with end Jay Springer to give him three TD tosses.

It had a cluster of fine running backs, including Yoder, Charlie and John Madden and reserve fullback Bob Kennedy. The defense as usual was tight, especially on pass defense. It seemed as if every time one of the two Colonia quarterbacks unloaded the ball, a PHS defender tipped it or knocked it down.

The one time Colonia threatened to score in the final period, having gained a first down on the PHS six, defensive coach Tom Murray sent in the first string to preserve Princeton's third shutout. An open field tackle by end Ross Bayer smothered the first play. Then after a gain to the two, linebacker Matt Alexander broke through and broke up an attempted pass. On fourth down, Ron McEwen batted away another pass.

After a fumble on the Colonia 19 halted Princeton's first drive, the home team got on the score board with 1:59 to go in the opening period with a 32-yard pass from Walstad to wingback Webber slanting across the middle. Chris Gartner, who never misses, converted.

Less than five minutes later, at 9:36 of the second quarter, Walstad came back with the same pass play and the same results. This one carried 55 yards. Neither time was defender near Webber, who increased his number of touchdowns to nine.

"Yes, we've worked on that pass play a lot" (it was equally successful against Trenton), said Wood later. Of course, we won't be able to use it next week. East Brunswick is here and they've seen it twice."

McEwen Intercepts. Twenty-three seconds before the half, McEwen intercepted a Colonia pass and with a nice return, moved the ball to the Patriot 23. On the next play, Walstad hit Springer. It was Springer's third TD in the past two games. His three scores places him second to Webber in scoring.

Early in the third period, after Yoder, back to pass, had scrambled a la Fran Tarkenton to the Colonia 13—he was shaken up on the play and sat out the rest of the game—Tom Taylor squirted through the Colonia line on the next play for the tally.

Nick Arcaro rounded out Princeton's scoring with an 11-yard scamper in the final period. Nick Ryan tried to convert but the play went away. However, the irrepressible Ryan picked up the ball and bulled his way over for the extra point. Earlier Ryan had tackled a Colonia runner in the end zone for a safety—his second in two games. That plus the PAT, plus last week's safety gave him five of the six points he hopes to score this year, in order to win a steak from coach Tom Murray.

In the same period — the third—Maury Peabody also pulled a Colonia runner down behind the goal for Princeton's second safety.

In such a game there were plenty of PHS standouts. Murray said that this had to be Alexander's best game and Matt was indeed brilliant coming up from his linebacker spot to make several tackles. Murray also cited the play of guard Charlie Sweigart and added, "You can't fault the play of Webber either in the secondary."

Once again, co-captain Tom Butterfoss, Princeton High's outstanding tackle, sat out the game because of a leg infection. Chances are he may miss the East Brunswick encounter, too, according to Wood.

PDS SEEKS 2ND WIN

Against Englewood Friday. With its first victory on the varsity level now on the books, the Princeton Day School football team faces another tough opponent, Englewood, Friday afternoon in what shapes up as possibly the most critical contest of the season.

After three straight defeats, the Panthers moved into the win column Monday afternoon, with a convincing 18-0 triumph over St. Bernards. The contest marked the halfway point in PDS's eight-game schedule.

Heading into its last four games, the team has undoubtedly gained a measure of self-confidence that comes with its first win. A triumph Friday is necessary to sustain it and retain the momentum for the rest of the season. With a second victory, a 4-4 record would be within reach, a fine achievement for the first year of varsity competition.

Although a better squad than St. Bernards, Englewood is not a powerhouse by any means. It boasts a fairly solid defense, but lacks ability to move the ball steadily. Last Saturday it tied Montclair, 13-13, scoring on an intercepted pass and on a short drive after recovering a fumble. Physically, the team is not as big as some PDS has faced.

A Satisfying Win. The Panthers' triumph over St. Bernards was pleasing in many respects. In was their first home appearance of the fall, the first ever as a varsity squad, and came after a sickness hit many of the team members forcing a postponement from Saturday to Monday.

The game was a distinct reversal of form from a week ago when the squad played its worst game so far this season while losing to Montclair. And the shutout was fashioned by a defense which had given up an average of three touchdowns in its first three games.

Page Outstanding. While it was definitely a team effort, the individual honors would have to go to halfback Craig Page, who scored two of the touchdowns for the Blue and White. After neither team could score the first time it got the ball, PDS forced St. Bernards to kick again from its 33-yard line. Page caught the ball on his own 37, cut to the outside and raced untouched down the sideline to score.

The PAT was smothered, but PDS led 6-0. In the second quarter after St. Bernards had elected to run the ball with fourth and two on its own 41 and failed, Rigot hit John Claghorn with a swing pass to the left and he threaded his way beautifully through would-be tacklers for PDS' second tally. A pass attempt for the extra point was incomplete.

Taking the second-half kickoff, the Panthers sewed up the contest with their third TD. With the ball at midfield, quarterback Bill Rigot hit Page with a long pass that carried to the 13. On the next play, the 159-lb. junior scampered around right end and dove into the end zone. This time the PAT was made, but PDS was penalized for illegal procedure and a second attempt was halted short of the goal.

While the offense had good success, the PDS defense did a fine job in containing the visitor's single wing attack. Chritchton Adams, possibly the most eager player on the field, was a standout at defensive end, making a number of tackles in the St. Bernard's backfield and recovering a fumble to halt one drive.

The closest St. Bernard got to scoring was in the fourth period, when a long pass carried to the PDS 13, but the defense held with Claghorn batting down a fourth-down pass. "Our pass defense was much improved over our earlier games," coach Dan Barren commented.

PDS came up with two interceptions. One was nullified through a penalty, and the other was made by Erik Heggen, deep in PDS territory, which he ran back to the visitors' 47.

When the final whistle blew, the Panthers had begun another drive and were around St. Bernards' 30-yard line head for another score. Maybe on Friday they'll be able to pick up where they left off.

CONOVER WINS THIRD

In Midget Football. A 26-yard run by Kevin Tylus in the second quarter gave Nassau Conover a 7-0 win over Princeton Fuel Oil in Midget Football action Sunday. In the second contest, the U-Store edged Matthews Construction, also by a 7-0 margin.

Tylus also ran the extra point across to account for all his team's scoring. Jamie Petrone, Tony Bailey and George Reynolds shared in the ball carrying for Conover, and Mark Baldwin caught two passes good for 24 yards. David Donahue Chris Fraker, Mark Van Hoesen and Tony Mattera put up a stout defense that held Princeton Fuel scoreless, and Reynolds made a timely interception to halt one drive.

Dane Black, Joe Gallo, Ray Richards and Brad Emblad rushed for 52 yards against Conover, but could not mount a sustained drive. Ronnie Campbell, Peter Field, Greg Kline, Glenn Goethals and Tom Mason kept Conover in check most of the way.

A fumble recovery by the Dave Oberman paved the way for the U Store's lone touchdown with Joe McQuinn going over for the score on the succeeding play, aided by a key block by Bobby King. McQuinn passed to Lev Lewis for the extra point.

It was a frustrating after noon for Matthews, which lost the ball twice on the U-Store's five yard line, once on a fumble and another time on an interception. Tom Rayner recovered the fumble and Oberman made the interception. Wray Blattner, Dan Blum and Pete Foltiny aided in containing Matthews.

Mitch Schoch starred for Matthews on offense, getting 81 of the team's 96 yards rushing. Larry Kahn, Kim Streater, Dave McNamera, Dick Van Hoesen and John Perone stood out on defense.

With its win, Conover moved into first place with a 3-0 record, the U-Store is second, 2-1, Princeton Fuel, third, 1-2, and Matthews, last, 0-3.

HUN AT HOME FRIDAY

For Key Penn-Jersey Tilt. It looks as if Hun School and George School will fight it out for honors in the Penn-Jersey Prep School League.

George School is unbeaten and untied while Hun's only blemish is a 13-13 tie with Perkiomen. Their confrontation will take place here November 11, but in the meantime Hun must get by Friends Central on Friday. The Quakers will travel to Princeton for a 3:15 battle.

Until the past weekend, Friends Central had also been undefeated in League play but it was solidly beaten Saturday by George, 33-6. George School had trailed at the half, 8-0.

"This will be one of our key games," said Hun coach Hawley Waterman. "Despite their loss to George School, Friends Central is still one of the better teams in the League."

Hun 41, Solebury 0. Hun coasted against Solebury Saturday in preparing for Central, as it overwhelmed the winless and scoreless home team, 41-0. The big Hun defense held Solebury to minus yards rushing in the first half and a scant six in the air. Hun, on the other hand, quickly ran up a 20-0 margin in the first period.

Christ Short showed that he was fully recovered from an illness that sidelined him a week ago by scoring the first two touchdowns on runs of 72 and 56 yards. In six carries, he gained a whopping 172 yards.

Steve Peters, 142-pound scatback who had replaced Short last week, scoring three times in his debut, picked up two more six-pointers against the Spartans. One was a 28-yard pass from quarterback Ken Kelly — Hun's third score in the opening period — and the other was a 51-yard romp in the third quarter. Peters' statistics for the afternoon: 107 yards in nine carries.

Another Steve, Steve Brooks, 165-pound reserve junior halfback, garnered the Red and Black's final TD's. He scored on runs of 52 and 30 yards — both in the fourth quarter. In the second, Hun picked up a safety to run its final count to 41.

With the emergence of Peters as a fine running back, the experiment of running tackle Duke Chute at fullback is over. Waterman reported that Chute, a 233-pound Juggernaut, will be a "healthy addition to our line" — a line that averages over 200 pounds.

Halfbacks Dick Mate has been assigned to take over at fullback. Peters will now play along side halfback Short instead of serving as his replacement. With its size up front and increased speed in the backfield, Hun is going to be tough for the rest of the season.

PENGUINS TO SAIL

In Approaching Regetta. The 12th Annual Touchdown Bowl of the Carneige Sailing Club will take place on the lake Saturday morning. Jerry Lawson, commodore of the Sailing Club, has planned three races for the dinghies of the International Penguin class participating in the regatta.

Lunch and award presentations will follow the races. Helping Lawson with preparations for the races and the luncheon in the River Road Shrine Club is Ed Metcalf, fleet captain of the Princeton Penguin Fleet.

Sunday will feature the Walt Jefferson Memorial Trophy race. The contest, held in honor of the late Penguin skipper who sailed on Lake Carnegie for many years prior to his death, is open only to club skippers.

In Sunday's racing, John Reeder again captured first place in the Penguins with a come-from-behind victory over Bill O'Donnell. Reeder scored 30.6 points to O'Donnell's 28.5. Sloop skippers spent most of the afternoon following Jerry Lawson around the course, as he piled up 29.4 points and another first-place finish.

Ed Metcalf was third in the Penguins with 26 points, followed by Larry Raffaelli 19.2; Tom Lawson, 10.1; Dave Geddes, 14; Dan Herrick, 6; and Joel Johnson, 3.

MRS. WHELAN VICTOR

In Garden State Tourney. Mrs. James Whelan, former women's champion at Springdale Golf Club, won the Garden State Women's Golf Association annual championship with a 54-hole total of 244.

Mrs. Whelan scored an 83 in the final round over the 5,875-yard par 74 Braid Burn Country Club course in Florham Park to beat by a shot Mrs. Marge Mason of Ridgewood, recent winner of the U. S. Senior title. The two had started the day all even with Mrs. William Tracy, who finished third at 249.

Mrs. Whelan began the final round with a bogey and double bogey, and averted a playoff by sinking a 15-foot putt on the 18th, after hitting her second shot into a water hazard. Mrs. Mason, however, had continual trouble with her putting.

BOWLING NOTES

Coan Bowler of the Week. Rolling for Princeton No. 1 in the Tri-County Firemen's League last week, Walt Coan spilled 248 pins in his final game for a 622 series and the TOWN TOPICS' Award of Bowler of the Week for the high single game.

Last week's winner, Tom Wood, was incorrectly identified as the Tom Wood who lettered in three sports at Princeton High School before graduating last June. Actually, this Tom Wood is an employee at McGraw Hill in Hightstown. He said that people had been confusing him with his junior namesake for the past five years.

This week's distaff winner of the TOWN TOPICS' award is Carole Harris, who rolled a single game high of 196 at the Princeton Recreation Lanes on Nassau Street.

Coan's 208-166-248 performance was not enough, however, to prevent his team from losing its first-place position in the league to Dutch Neck. No. 1 is now tied for second with Kingston. Each has 12 points while Dutch Neck has 14. Princeton Junction is third with 10.

Coan's teammate, Bill Whatley, fashioned the high series for the week at the Recreation Center, rolling a stead 202-209-216—627. Wall Brown of Princeton Junction just missed tying for high game honors with a 247.

Other high scores: Elmer Perantoni and Carmen Panicaro, both 220s, and George Pierre, Pual Teresky and Frank Maddalon, 212, 211, and 210 respectively. Dick Anderson had 208.

Three had two games of 200 or more in the Nassau League. Joe Pfister rolled 204-225; Andy Drummond, 200-220, and Vince Tufano, 200-200. Dave Cromwell had 223 and Mike DeStafano and Dave Burrough each 201.

In the standings, R&D Atlantic widened its lead to four points, 30-26, over Italian-American Sportsmen Club and Princeton Aviation, tied for second. Three—Plumbers and Steamfitters Local 380, Grover Lumber and Tiger Garage — are knotted for third with 24 apiece, while First Aid has 22.

Nini Leasing gained six points and a tie for first place in the A League, where it and Antler's both have 28 points. Ivy Inn, tied for first last week, slipped to 26 points and second place, one more than Stefannelli. Nassau Del (23), Princetown Del and Princeton Inn, both 22, and Leo's Gulf (20) follow.

Nick Sculerati was high with a 245. Fred Procaccini had the high series, a 612 on games of 215-204-193. Bill Cavanaugh had 209-215 and Harry Kahny, 201-216. Other high single games: Bob Cifell's 223, Tony Nini's, 218; Al Hibbard and Jim Kahny, 213s; and Guido Zinetti, 212.

Ken Chilcote with a 190 and Julia Ball, 161, were the top performers in the Mixed League.

Mixers leads the standings with 16 points, trailed by Hi Lo's with 14. Tops and King Pins each have 12.

Second to Mrs. Harris in the Business Women's League was Charlotte Rossi with 189. Carol Lisi rolled 187; Mella Cruser, 177; Diane Fowler, 175; Jean Donald, 173; and Julia Ball, 172.

Sue McManiman converted the 3-6-7-10 split, Elaine Bartolino the 5-8-10, Anne Pfister the 5-7, Eleanor Mansue the 3-10 and Marge Davison the 2-7.

Princeton Taxi widened its two-point lead of last week to six, 34-28, over Nini Plmouth. Rocky Hill is third with 27. Bucci Builders (26), Universit (24) Claridge Liquor (22) and Jefferson Plumbing (20) follow.

TIRES-TIRES-TIRES

SNOW TIRES
NEW and USED
Big selection of tires we don't want to carry over for next season.

While getting ready to take our year end tire inventory we uncovered hundreds of tires that we must sell now. We're willing to "deal" on these tires... discontinued tread designs (brand new tires)... new car "take-offs" (many matched pairs and sets used less than 100 miles)... good inspected used tires (some with thousands of miles of tread remaining. We'll have these tires sorted in stacks for easy selection. Come in and pick your tires and name your price! No reasonable offer will be refused. Be here early for best selection.

FULL TIME EDITOR

Growing educational publishing company in Princeton is looking for an assistant editor. A feeling for smooth English, an eagle eye for typos and an instinctive sense of grammar are more important than experience, but some knowledge of printing and publishing would naturally be valuable. Our concept of the job is broad: this is an unusual opportunity to grow with a nationally known company that still has only a handful of people involved in it.

HILLTOP HOME . . . built 'way back from the street, among tall trees on two beautiful acres in one of Princeton's most neighborly nearby communities, the two-story Colonial house has 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths. First floor has foyer, living room with fireplace, separate dining room, den, powder room, kitchen and laundry. 2-car attached garage. Full basement. However, this property is much more than a nice 4-bedroom house in the country — here is a wonderful way to live . . . with a big 20x40 swimming pool, a lovely garden, complete privacy, and most of the land covered with shrubs, trees and vines so that the owner can enjoy his weekends and not dedicate himself to life on a lawnmower. (sole agent) $49,500

CLOSE IN . . . walk to University, or to N. Y. Express bus. Here is an interesting home, in an excellent location, which has living room with fireplace, dining room, powder room, kitchen and a fine new family room with entrances from foyer and kitchen. Upstairs, 3 bedrooms and a tiled bath. Fenced backyard, with lovely trees and landscaping. (sole agent) $33,500

CLASSIC COLONIAL . . . In nearby Lawrence, on a high corner lot, this delightful red shingled home, with white shutters and trim, is only 6 years old. 23 foot living room with fireplace. Separate dining room. Sunny family room off the kitchen, with adjacent powder room. Full basement. 2-car garage. Upstairs: 4 corner bedrooms, 2 baths. This is a spacious home in a fine neighborhood with plenty of children. School within walking distance. Wall-to-wall carpeting included. Aluminum storms & screens. Quick occupancy as the owners are building a new and larger home and can move within 30 days. (sole agent) $36,500

FOUR BEDROOMS . . . in one of Princeton's most attractive neighboring communities, with a gorgeous view of rolling wooded countryside, this fine shingled Colonial home has white trim and shutters. One acre of land, with beautiful lawns and shrubbery and a fenced backyard. The house has a foyer with powder room on one side and hall closet on the other. Two steps down, there is a large living room with fireplace and cross ventilation. Paneled den. Separate dining room. Large kitchen with ample breakfast space, adjoining laundry and entrance to attached 2-car garage. Large dry basement. Upstairs: master bedroom with big walk-in closet, another closet and bath, plus 3 more bedrooms and bath. (sole agent) $43,500

CHARMING . . . in a wooded area, this fine brick home has living room with fireplace, large kitchen, laundry, many big closets, screened porch with slate floor, 3 bedrooms and large tiled bath. Upstairs: huge paneled room with bar & ½ bath. Here is a beautifully constructed home built for his own dwelling by the owner — a builder himself. An ideal property for people seeking a retirement home in Princeton, N. Y. Express bus only a short walk away, yet this house is on a quiet street with little traffic. (sole agent) $46,500

WOODED . . . against an almost rural background of lofty trees, this long, low white house enjoys as lovely a setting as any in the Township. 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. All rooms on one floor. Big paneled recreation room with fireplace, and powder room, in basement. Living room (15x27) with fireplace, 14x16 dining room, modern kitchen with dishwasher and disposal, sunroom and a beautiful flagstoned patio. Master bedroom has two over-sized, walk-in closets. The house has been freshly painted this summer! Here is a property that will appeal particularly to one who loves privacy, the 60 acres of woods in back guarantee seclusion, yet the house is close to everything! (sole agent) $59,500

LAWRENCEVILLE . . . 5 bedrooms, 2½ baths. Large Colonial, built in 1965, on a wooded acre. Entry hall, living room 13.4 x 23, dining room, family room with fireplace, modern kitchen, laundry & powder room. Central air-conditioning. Lovely patio. This is one of the beautiful homes in secluded "Longacres," adjoining a college campus, where all that Time can do to the property is make it more attractive . . . and more valuable. The owner has added many improvements to this property, and every mother will be delighted that there are lots of young children in this area and virtually no traffic on its quiet streets. (sole agent) $63,000

MERCER STREET . . . close to Battlefield Park, this property, with its lofty trees and beautiful landscaping, is located in one of Princeton's most sought-after neighborhoods. A lovely story-and-a-half Colonial, with white clapboards and black shutters, the residence is as faultlessly maintained as any we've ever seen. Entrance foyer, large (31x27) living room with fireplace, spacious dining room, spic and span modern kitchen, powder room, master bedroom and bath on first floor. Upstairs: 3 bedrooms and bath. Lots of closets and storage space. Attached 2-car garage. Large, quiet attic fan. This is a very fine home, in impeccable condition. (sole agent) $72,500

TOWN HOUSE . . . for you who dream of retiring to Princeton in an elegant way befitting your means, here is the perfect home. Built by Matthews of the very finest materials, this house of white-washed brick has two bedrooms and two baths on the first floor. Upstairs: 2 bedrooms and bath for visiting children (or grandchildren) and 2 servants' rooms and bath. Central air conditioning. Hall, living room and dining room are spacious. Modern kitchen. Beautiful garden. Located in the Western Section . . . and in the Borough, too. $100,000

Many more fine homes in Princeton and vicinity in every price range.
